J. C. CABANNE, 76, WHO CUT THROAT WITH RAZOR, DIES

Member of Old St. Louis French Family and Head of Dairy Company, Had Been Despondent Over Illness.

EVASSED SERVANT AND LOCKED SELF IN ROOM

Daughter, With Whom He Resided at Buckingham Hotel, Away When He Wounded Self Yesterday.

J. Charles Cabanne, 76 years old, president of the St. Louis Dairy Co. and member of the pioneer French family after whom Cabanne avenue was named, died at 3:30 p. m. today in St. John's Hospital from a wound in the throat inflicted with a razor because of despondency over illness.

Although he retired from active business 12 years ago, Cabanne, prior to his illness, had taken a keen interest in business affairs and was devoted to outdoor life. He was fond of golf and every morning made a trip on a Myrtle to the Triple A course in Forest Park.

Cabanne was born here Oct. 16, 1846, and was named in honor of Joseph Charles, whose father was editor of the Missouri Gazette. His grandfather was John Pierre Cabanne, one of the early French settlers in St. Louis, and he was a direct descendant of Mme. Chouteau, the first white woman to establish a home on the west bank of the Mississippi.

RUMOR OF DEAL FOR CROW'S SEAT IN SENATE DENIED

John A. Bell, Pittsburg Millionaire, Said to Have Been Offered Unexpired Term for $650,000.

MYSTERY IN ILLNESS OF THE INCUMBENT

He Went to Hospital Christmas "for Few Days" Observation — Bell Calls Whole Story False.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PITTSBURG, Pa., March 17.—John A. Bell, Pittsburg millionaire, who was named as the beneficiary of the rumored plan of United States Senator William E. Crow to resign his seat so that Bell might be appointed to succeed him, provided Bell underwrote Crow's financial liabilities, placed at $650,000, today issued the following statement:

"I have been informed recently that Senator Crow's physicians have advised him that his health will not permit him to become a candidate to succeed himself in the United States Senate. If such is the case, I will probably become a candidate to succeed Senator Crow."

"I cannot too strongly deny the report that a monetary proposal is under consideration in connection with the question of my candidacy. "Whole Report False." "I would not consider assuming any monetary obligation to secure the nomination or support. I would not pay so much as a penny, nor would I permit my friends to do so for the nomination or the endorsement of any men, faction or party. No payment has been made or will be made by me or any of my friends; no promises have been made either directly or through my friends, nor will any be made directly or by implication. The whole report of a monetary consideration is false, malicious and without foundation in fact."

President Decides to Delay Return Until Saturday; Played Golf Yesterday.

By the Associated Press. ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 17.—President Harding had an additional day of vacation to look forward to today as a result of his decision to delay his departure for Washington until tomorrow.

Announcement of the change in the President's plans was made late yesterday. He plans in the meantime to obtain as much benefit as possible from his rest here.

A round of golf in the morning and a quiet afternoon in his hotel apartment was the President's program yesterday.

Gov. Hardwick of Georgia, who is making an automobile trip through Florida, called on President and Mrs. Harding yesterday to pay his respects and was their guest at luncheon.

DISCOVERER OF FAMOUS GOLD MINES DIES WITHOUT MONEY

Special to the Post-Dispatch. FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 17.—When a quiet, gentlemanly old man became ill the other day in Fayetteville, nothing was known of his past or his people. He had been in the city a few weeks, and made some acquaintances who knew that he was seeking gold.

When it became known that this seeker of gold was seriously ill and temporarily out of funds, a relief association came to his aid and he was sent to a hospital and cared for until his death Tuesday. Then it was found, from letters and papers, that he was Robert K. Stevens, the discoverer of the famous Cripple Creek mines in the Colorado range. Millions of dollars he had made for others. Some had taken advantage of his honesty and then forgotten to reward him.

$138,584.76 BIGGEST INCOME TAX FOR ST. LOUIS DISTRICT

Amount of Federal Assessment Only May Be Made Public; $2,000,000 Largest Corporation Levy.

The largest income tax assessed this year against any individual in St. Louis or the Eastern Missouri collection district, is $138,584.76. This was learned today at the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, who is permitted to announce amounts, but not to make known the name of any individual or corporate taxpayer.

A one-fourth payment, $34,637.19, was made on this tax a few days ago. Because of varying rates on incomes of different sizes, it would be difficult to figure the net income on which this tax was levied, and the net income, if ascertained, would not indicate the gross income of the individual, which might include non-taxable receipts of various kinds.

The largest tax levied this year on any corporation in this district was about $2,000,000, and the first payment of one-fourth of this amount, $500,000, has been made.

BRANCH OF BIG BASEBALL LOTTERY UNEARTHED HERE

PRIZES OF $1000 DAILY TO BE PAID

Scheme Based on Total Runs of Six Selected Teams — Headquarters Apparently in Cleveland.

The operations of a baseball lottery, promising to pay one prize of $1000 daily, based on the total runs of six selected teams in four leagues, have been uncovered in St. Louis through information furnished by a newsboy.

Charles Bloch of 3925 Lindell boulevard, one of the proprietors of a newspaper and magazine agency at 3925 Olive street, was arrested yesterday by Detective Sgt. Roach. Members of the gambling squad, searching the establishment, found 3500 stubs, with the names and addresses of ticket purchasers, and combinations of team numbers checked off on the stubs, thus indicating that at least 3500 season certificates have been sold in St. Louis at $1 each, several weeks in advance of the opening of the baseball season in the four leagues.

1000 Unsold Tickets Found. About 1000 unsold tickets, attached to similar stubs, were also found. These were in small lots, in leather cases, as if for distribution among agents who would peddle them out.

Telegrams and correspondence found in the place indicate, according to Roach, that the lottery is a national affair, with headquarters in Cleveland, and that the St. Louis agency was one of a number, the number perhaps being as large as the number of cities in the four baseball leagues.

Make-Up of Opposition. The opposition will be made up of Democrats plus the four "irreconcilable isolationists" among the Republicans—Borah of Idaho, France of Maryland, Johnson of California and La Follette of Wisconsin.

The votes to date have demonstrated that the opposition cannot hope to win more than three-fourths from the Republican side. If, however, the Brandegee reservation should be eliminated, as Senator Spencer suggested yesterday it should be, it is virtually certain that a sufficient number of recruits could be had to defeat the treaty.

All calculations are based on the assumption of 93 Senators being present and voting. The remaining three are accounted for by a pair arranged between Harris of Georgia against the treaty and Crow of Pennsylvania and Harrell of Oklahoma, for it.

Provisions of Vote Agreement. The unanimous consent agreement reached by the Senate to take the final vote, March 24, carries with it also the provision that no votes shall be taken on any reservations or amendments till next Tuesday, and after 3 p. m. Wednesday no Senator shall speak more than half an hour on any reservation or amendment or more than one hour on the treaty itself.

Each of the season certificates has six team numbers checked off, no two combinations being the same, according to a statement made on the back of the ticket. The same combination is noted on the stub retained by the ticket seller.

On every week day in the playing season of the four leagues the total will be scored by the six teams in combination are to be figured, and the combination scoring the highest number of runs is the winner. It makes no difference whether any team wins or loses its game—the number of runs is the only thing considered.

The total award for the season, of 130 weeks, is announced as being $130,000.

Rules printed on the ticket provide that awards shall be made only on week days, as not all teams have games scheduled on Sundays. In case of a double-header, only the runs scored in the first game are to be counted. If two or more ticket buyers score the same total of runs, the prize shall be divided. When any team does not play its game the number of runs is the only thing considered.

PEITENTARY OFFICIAL OUSTED; ADMITS HE GOT COMMISSIONS ON COAL

C. R. Morrow, Traffic Manager, in Resigning by Request, Says Prison Got Coal for 30 Cents Less — Doesn't Consider He Wronged Anyone.

AMOUNT HE GOT ESTIMATED AT $1700

Governor Orders Attorney-General, Who Discovered Payments by St. Louis Firm, to Bring Action for Restitution.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, March 17.—The State Prison Board today received the resignation of C. R. Morrow, which it had requested, as traffic manager at the Penitentiary. At the same time, Gov. Hyde instructed Attorney-General Barrett to institute proceedings to obtain full restitution to the State of all money received by Morrow from coal firms as commissions on purchases of coal made by Morrow for the penitentiary.

The Attorney-General said he had not determined whether the proceedings will go beyond some form of civil suit. Morrow has admitted receiving the commissions, but said the coal cost the State no more than if it had been purchased through other channels, and that he did not consider that any wrong had been committed.

About $1700 Involved. The amount on record as having been received as commissions since last August by Morrow and by the Fidelity Coal Co. of Jefferson City, of which firm he is a member, is a little more than $1700. The Attorney-General said there were indications that the commissions were more than this amount, as some of the commissions are said to have been at 15 per cent, instead of the rate of 5 per cent, at which the $1700 total was figured.

Attorney-General Barrett's letter to Gov. Hyde, which brought exposure of the commission transactions, was as follows: "I desire to present to you, and through you to the Prison Board, some very significant and important facts which an investigation made by me has developed."

"The penitentiary has bought, since July 21, 300 carloads of coal from the Delhi Fuel Co. of St. Louis, the cars approximating 15,000 tons. This coal is bought through the Delhi Fuel Co., which is a member of the Fidelity Coal Co., and receives upon it a commission ranging from 5 to 15 per cent of the price paid."

"The prison also buys from the West Virginia Coal Co., but I have not confirmed whether they also pay a commission to the traffic manager."

Length of Time Not Ascertained. "I do not know how long the State's coal purchases have been made a means for private profit. It seems that Morrow and possibly some others conducted what was known as 'The Fidelity Coal Co.' in Jefferson City, which coal company took orders from individuals in the town and filled them through the Delhi Fuel Co. On this they properly received a commission, and no distinction was made on the books of the Delhi Fuel Co. between the orders from the Fidelity company and those from the prison. The Fidelity Coal Co. seems to have been a partnership, and was dissolved some time ago."

"For your further information, the coal at the penitentiary costs $2.50 a ton, plus about the same amount for freight, or, in other words, close to $5.50 per ton, while that used for the Capitol building, including freight, ranges around $4. Screenings are used at the Capitol building rather than mine run, but I am told that the grade is equally adaptable to the penitentiary's uses."

"I find on inspection that the Delhi Fuel Co.'s books show payments to either the Fidelity Coal Co. or the Delhi Fuel Co. for coal used at the penitentiary."

2 MEN BURNED TO DEATH IN SHED NEAR EDGE MONT, ILL.

Pair Lose Lives in Structure Back of Saloon; Proprietor and Man Staying With Him to Be Questioned.

THEORY CIGARETTES STARTED BLAZE

Flames Discovered at 4 A. M. by Nearby Resident; Men Got Permission to Sleep in Building.

Two men were burned to death early today in a shed in the rear of a saloon at Woodland, a suburb of Edgemoor, Ill., on the Caseyville road. They were Herman Nelson, 26 years old, of Belleville, and "Chief" Howell, 53, of Duquoin, Ill., a half-breed Indian, whose given name is not known to the police.

Ira Maddox, proprietor of the saloon, and James T. Barron of Henderson, Ky., who spent the night at the Maddox home, are in custody pending an investigation of the affair.

Fire Discovered at 4 A. M. The fire was discovered at 4 a. m. by Thomas Reynolds, who resides across the street from the saloon. At that time the shed had been burned nearly to the ground. Reynolds awakened Maddox and Barron, who were asleep in the Maddox living quarters above the saloon. The bodies of Nelson and Howell were charred and would not have been identified had not Maddox informed the police that he had given the men permission to sleep in the shed.

Theory of Cigarettes. They retired at midnight, Maddox said, after having spent several hours in the saloon. Maddox told the police that Nelson was an inveterate cigarette smoker and advanced the theory that he might have dropped a lighted cigarette on the bed on which he and Howell were sleeping. There was no light of any kind in the shed when the men retired.

After they had made statements to the coroner Maddox and Barron were ordered held at Belleville until detectives investigating the fire returned from Woodland.

INDIANS WIN FISH DECISION

Hoover Sustains Order Prohibiting Commercial Fishing in Alaskan Rivers.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce has decided the long controversy between the Alaskan Indians and the big salmon fisheries interests of that territory in favor of the Indians. It was stated in a telegram received from the Secretary by Bishop Peter of the Roman Catholic Church that the Bureau of Fisheries two years ago had promulgated regulations under which no more commercial fishing was to be permitted in the Yukon and other rivers after Sept. 1, 1921, and that the packing companies had appealed to the Department of Commerce.

"Mr. Hoover's decision," the Bishop said, "is that the regulations shall stand. It is on the fishing in these rivers that the natives depend for food for themselves and their dogs."

CORNER BEEF AND CABBAGE SERVED AT 15 CENTS IN HONOR OF THE FREE STATE

CHICAGO, March 17.—Today is St. Patrick's day. One of the leading restaurants in the loop today is serving corner beef and cabbage for 15 cents. This bargain menu is the result of a wager made a year ago by Michael F. Maloney, who for more than 20 years has been manager of the restaurant. At that time Maloney told friends that if Ireland became a free state within a year he would serve corn beef and cabbage on St. Patrick's day for 15 cents. Ireland has become a free state, and thousands of Irishmen who knew of Maloney's promise are expected to take advantage of it.

Because St. Patrick's day falls on Friday, a special dispensation from the Pope eliminating the day from the list of fast days during the Lenten season was obtained.

$650,000 DEAL FOR CROW'S SENATE SEAT IS RUMORED

No other formal announcements have been made. Those in line, however, include Maj. David A. Reed and Congressman Clyde Kelly of this district.

All Pittsburgh morning papers print stories about the alleged deal. The Gazette-Times, the property of the late Senator Oliver, mentions the $650,000.

John A. Bell is president of a number of banks.

Gov. Sproul Denounces Rumor of Senate Deal as "Almost Infamous"

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—Gov. Sproul last night denounced as "almost infamous" reports from Pittsburgh that a deal was in the making whereby a settlement of $650,000 was to be made for the seat in the United States Senate now occupied by Senator William E. Crow. Whispers which have filtered through hotel lobbies across the State for the last two weeks, to the general effect that huge financial obligations would have to be provided for before the question of a successor to Senator Crow could be settled, broke into print today.

It is generally reported that Senator Crow has not been very successful in the field of finance lately. One report was that the obligations, which were to be provided for, totaled $1,200,000 and that the price, so to speak, for settling this amount had come down from $600,000 to $450,000.

"Mr. Bell," said the Governor, referring to John A. Bell, Pittsburgh banker, "is not the kind of man who would enter into such a deal as this almost infamous report speaks of. He is a man of the highest character, who has lived an honorable life as a Christian gentleman."

"I have made no promises to anyone respecting an appointment to the Senate. If the matter comes to a head I will use my best judgment in disposing of it."

It is possible Sproul was more indignant respecting reports that Senator George Wharton Pepper would be offered the post of Ambassador to England, and that Sproul would become a candidate for the Pennsylvania seat, than he was respecting the Bell rumor.

"The story is utterly ridiculous," said the Governor. "I cannot imagine where such rumors spring from. It is wholly untrue."

Teaches Sunday School Class

Morrow has held the position of traffic manager of the penitentiary for several years, at a salary of $175 a month. He is a well-known figure in Jefferson City, and teaches a Sunday-school class of more than 100 boys in one of the local churches. He has entertained boys with hikes and picture show parties.

Morrow said today: "I have been engaged in the coal business in Jefferson City for two years, under the name of the Fidelity Coal Co., and this was known to all, including the members of the Prison Board. Since no objection was made, I presumed this to be satisfactory."

"The commissions were the regular dealer's commissions, and the State paid no more for the coal than it had been sold direct. The State did not lose anything; in fact, it got some of the coal for 30 cents a ton less than it had been paying. I did not consider that I had wronged anyone."

At the office of the Defti Coal Co. in the Boatmen's Bank Building, it was said this afternoon that no one was there who could make a statement for the company as to the penitentiary transactions. The city directory lists James J. O'Donnell of Webster Groves as president of the concern.

PARENTS MEET TO HEAR MILLER ON SCHOOL CHARGES

Judge Becker Says He Does Not Know Whether First-Hand Witnesses Will Be Presented Today.

DEFINITE PROOF OF "CLUBS" IS DESIRED

Committee Holds That This Specific Charge Is One That Brought Disrepute on High School.

The parents' investigating committee of Soldan High School met this afternoon in the Police Board room at police headquarters, to hear further testimony to be introduced by Victor J. Miller, president of the Police Board, in the committee's inquiry into Miller's recent declaration that he knew of the existence of an immoral club of boys, and was reliably informed that there was a similar club of girls in the school.

The five members of the committee arrived at headquarters about 2 o'clock and there was an informal discussion before the beginning of testimony. Newspaper reporters were excluded from the fourth floor of the building, where the board of officers is located.

Judge William De Becker, chairman of the committee, said before the meeting that the committee hoped to conclude its work as early as possible, and to make a positive announcement of the results of its inquiry while the matter is still clear in the public mind.

"We do not know how much more testimony Mr. Miller has to offer," he said, "or whether we can get through today, though we would like to do so."

Nature of Testimony Unknown

"We have not been told, either, whether we are to hear testimony from first-hand witnesses today," Mr. Miller does not tell us in advance what he is going to present. The committee has taken the position that it will require definite proof of Miller's original and specific charge as to the existence of an immoral club of boys. It was this club charge, and not general allegations of harmful practices among high school students, which has attracted unfavorable attention to Soldan High School throughout the country, and the committee wishes to keep the issue clear on this point.

Witnesses Hear of Club

As was shown yesterday, out of 24 possible witnesses listed by Miller in an alphabetical citation by the committee, six were said to have received information of some character as to the existence of such clubs. The rest had information, largely hearsay, upon other matters.

"Most Transactions Wagers"

"The evidence shows that the largest part of the transactions on this exchange were simply wagers made on the fluctuations of the cotton market obtained by telephonic communication as to the activities and actions of other exchanges, following which false representations were made to those who had risked money in these illegal transactions."

"I am of the opinion that the evidence given warrants presentation directly to the grand jury, or the taking of a complaint against the officers and persons in charge of the American Cotton Exchange for conducting a bucket shop under the terms of this act."

Regarding witnesses who testified at the "John Doe" investigation, Magistrate McAdoo advised that "where they have frankly and fully and without reserve given evidence material for the prosecution and for the public benefit, I would advise that immunity be extended to them."

The District Attorney, he added, had not asked the witnesses for waivers of immunity, therefore they would not be liable under the law to prosecution.

Names Others Involved

Besides officers of the exchange, Magistrate McAdoo said the following persons had been involved so far in testimony taken at the "John Doe" hearings:

Martin Gouike, trading under the name of Martin & Co.

Israel Gouike, trading under the name of Anderson & Co.

A. T. Jennings and Leonard C. Cocheu, trading under the name of A. T. Jennings & Co.

PROSECUTION OF AMERICAN COTTON EXCHANGE URGED

New York City Magistrate, After 'John Doe' Inquiry, Says Evidence Warrants Grand Jury Hearing.

MOST TRANSACTIONS WAGERS, HE STATES

A. W. Graham, President and Author of Cotton Futures Act, Among Those Involved, He Says.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 17.—Chief City Magistrate McAdoo, who conducted a "John Doe" investigation of the American Cotton Exchange, last night requested the District Attorney to draft warrants for the arrest of certain officers and members of the exchange, or immediately to lay before a grand jury evidence of "bucket shoping."

A. W. Graham, formerly of Oxford, N. C., president of the American Cotton Exchange, and author of the cotton futures act, and George W. Pratt, secretary, are among the officers involved in the testimony, Magistrate McAdoo said.

The written request for warrants or a grand jury investigation goes into a detailed explanation of the law defining bucket shops, prohibited under the penal law. The law "is clear and explicit," the magistrate said, "in establishing legislation to prevent 'bucket shoping' and make-believe sales, and defines as a bucket shop any reducing or place 'where any contract prohibited by this article is made or offered to be made.'"

"Losses Must Have Been Great." Magistrate McAdoo criticized the exchange for the unit upon which "wagers" were made from 100 to 1000 bales and added that it "was a serious misfortune for the large number of foolish dupes who indulged in this form of gambling, and the serious losses must have been great." It would have been better, he said, if the unit had been higher than 100 bales.

Even when the speculation is carried on within the law, it calls for a large means in order to meet large losses," the magistrate declared, "but imagine the chances there are to the so-called customer when the game is reduced to a series of wagers, and when most of those speculating live far away from the exchange, in the cotton belt of the Southern States."

"Most Transactions Wagers." The evidence shows that the largest part of the transactions on this exchange were simply wagers made on the fluctuations of the cotton market obtained by telephonic communication as to the activities and actions of other exchanges, following which false representations were made to those who had risked money in these illegal transactions.

"I am of the opinion that the evidence given warrants presentation directly to the grand jury, or the taking of a complaint against the officers and persons in charge of the American Cotton Exchange for conducting a bucket shop under the terms of this act."

Members of New York Cotton Exchange Being Investigated.

Certain members of the New York Cotton Exchange are being investigated by the board of officers of the exchange, on the strength of testimony given at the "John Doe" inquiry last Tuesday that they had supplied quotations by telephone to the American Cotton Exchange. Charges were reported to have been preferred against one firm, the identity of which was not disclosed.

If the evidence warrants it, it was said, the offending members will be charged with violating their contracts with the Western Union Telegraph Co. and the New York Cotton Exchange, in giving out quotations of the exchange often than once every 15 minutes. The inquiry will be thorough, it was understood.

MRS. OBENCHAIN'S FATE RESTS IN HANDS OF JURY

Prosecution Asks for Verdict of Murder, Which Is Declared Equivalent to Plea for Capital Punishment.

PRECAUTIONS TO GUARD JURY INCREASED

Being "Turned Down" by Kennedy Advanced by Prosecution as Motive in Killing.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, March 17.—The case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was given to the jury at noon today when Judge Reeve finished reading his instructions. Judge Reeve then directed the jury to elect a foreman, after which it was to be taken to lunch before beginning its deliberations.

During the morning Asa Keyes, Deputy District Attorney, concluded the final argument for the State. A large crowd jammed the small courtroom and the corridors of the Hall of Justice, while hundreds more stood in the street outside. Extra precautions were taken for guarding the jury.

Keyes told the jury that there was not one extenuating circumstance and asked that it declare Mrs. Obenchain guilty of murder. Lawyers said this was equivalent to a direct plea for capital punishment.

Prosecutor Declares Motive Lay in Spurning by Kennedy

Keyes replied yesterday to defense arguments that no motive had been shown for Mrs. Obenchain to conspire with Arthur C. Burch to slay Kennedy, by declaring it had been shown she had been spurned by Kennedy. He reviewed the relationship between the defendant and the slain man from the date of August 5, 1921, the date of the shooting, and read from the letters which passed between them. It was the fifth time during the trial Mrs. Obenchain heard these matters reviewed. "Kennedy turned her down, not once but three times," the prosecutor declared.

Keyes said that Mrs. Obenchain's "spurn" was more truthfully than her lips, and argued to the jury that the letters showed the motive for the crime, in Kennedy's refusal to marry her.

The jury was told that Mrs. Obenchain had been spurned by Kennedy, and that she had turned down Kennedy, not once but three times, the prosecutor declared. "When Madalynne Obenchain tells you she never was in Burch's room while he was in Los Angeles except on one occasion, she is telling you a deliberate falsehood, and if she will lie about that, she will lie about anything in this case."

Watches Prosecutor Intently. In opening his argument this morning Keyes told the jury that there was "sufficient evidence to convict Mrs. Obenchain of the crime of murder," and said they would be "false to their oaths" if they let the fact that the defendant was a woman affect their verdict.

Mrs. Obenchain watched Keyes intently as he argued, but it was not apparent that his statements concerning her actions or her testimony affected her. She occasionally toyed with a small silver pencil.

Jud. Rush, senior counsel for the defense, completed his argument in the morning with an eloquent plea that Kennedy feared someone would "steal" his money, and that he had turned back to freedom, where she could grow old in doing good in the world, and when her freedom should come her soul could join that of her lover, J. Belton Kennedy.

Says Kennedy Feared Someone. Telling the jury that Mrs. Obenchain's testimony that she saw two roughly dressed men run from the scene of the shooting stood undisputed, Rush said:

"I am sure you do not hold human life so cheaply and human rights so indistinct that you can find her testimony true."

BEST WAY TO CHASE A GROUCH IS TO SIT RIGHT, DOCTOR SAYS

Humped Over or Slouching Postures Court Peevishness, He Asserts in Y. W. C. A. Talk.

The best way to chase a "grouch" is to sit right, stand right and exercise correctly, Dr. C. A. Stone of Barnes Hospital declared last night at the Y. W. C. A. in a "Health Week" address on "The Relation of Exercise and Posture to Health."

"When seated, be erect, not slumped over," said Dr. Stone. "The body should be bent at the hips, not the waist. The shoulders should be held back, but without strain, and the head and neck should be erect upon the spine. The girl who humps over as she works her chin on her chest, her shoulders drooping, restricts her lung capacity, cramps the muscles of the diaphragm, and puts in a bid for peevishness, fatigue, poor blood circulation and lack of efficiency."

The correct posture when standing, said Dr. Stone, is one in which the center of balance runs down through the body on a line passing just before the ears and shoulders, then drops straight on through body and hips, goes slightly to the front of the knee joints, and strikes the feet in the front of the ankle. The feet should be apart, not held heels together, and the weight should fall equally inside each foot.

"Most exercises, indoors and out, are excellent, if taken rationally, but they tend to follow a groove, bringing into use muscles not called upon in your daily work at stenographer's desk, office, file or sales counter. For the girl who stands long hours on her feet, nothing can beat swimming."

The lecture series ends tonight with an address by Prof. I. R. Hopkins, Chicago orthopedist, on "What You Should Know About Your Feet."

timony false and the mere theory of the State true."

Rush told the jury that he was not required to answer the prosecution's question as to who killed Kennedy. He said it was a significant fact that Kennedy feared someone would "steal" his money, and that he had turned back to freedom, where she could grow old in doing good in the world, and when her freedom should come her soul could join that of her lover, J. Belton Kennedy.

It was "humanly impossible" for Mrs. Obenchain to have brought about Kennedy's death, Rush said, regardless of any alleged malice she may have had against him, he said. "Madalynne Obenchain loved Kennedy better than life, and if she knew that there was a man with a gun waiting to slay him as he walked those steps, she would have cried: 'Oh! Belton, come back!'"

DISCUSSES ITALY'S ATTITUDE TOWARD POPE

Ambassador Ricci Virtually Invites Pope to Walk in Streets of Rome.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 17.—V. R. Ricci, the Italian Ambassador, in the course of an address at the Catholic Club last night, virtually invited Pius XI to test the sincerity of the Italian Government by walking in the streets of Rome, and thus put an end to the "prisoner of the Vatican" policy. The Ambassador flatly declared that nobody in America dare say the Pope is a prisoner and the Italian Government his jailer.

"There is nobody in America who would dare say that the Pope is a prisoner and the Italian Government his jailer, since Pius XI blessed the representatives of the royal army spontaneously, and he was not a soldier who wore to salute the blessing Pope while notes of the royal march were heard," said the Ambassador.

The fanaticism of our foreign detractors is due more to ignorance than to hatred. They cannot understand our history or grasp the refinement of our feelings, which they are unable to gauge. There is not a fairly educated and fair-minded person who now dares to maintain that the unity and independence of my country are antagonistic to the Catholic religion and irreconcilable with the profound respect which is due and paid to the spiritual authority of the pontiff.

"In my opinion the Catholic Church can be the most efficacious aid to the advancement of the humble masses who wish to free themselves from the tyranny of plutocratic organizations based upon the selfish interests of a formal democracy devoid of real liberty."

DODGE SIGNS SENTENCE FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATION

Effort to Secure Release of Millionaire From Five-Day Term Is Begun.

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—A fight to obtain release of John Duval Dodge, young Detroit millionaire, from the Detroit House of Correction, where he was sent yesterday for a five-day term by Judge Charles L. Bartlett on a speeding charge, began by his counsel this morning. As young Dodge was being classified for his term in the workhouse, a writ of habeas corpus was served this morning upon the superintendent of the institution.

Dodge spent his first night of imprisonment on a cot in the jail corridor, having called a physician, who declared he was suffering with a fever. He was declared to be sufficiently recovered this morning, however, to be assigned to a job among other prisoners. Three "jobs" were held out as possibilities, washing dishes, working on the coal pile or taking care of the prison furnace.

Dodge pleaded guilty of exceeding the speed limit last night, and was ordered by Judge Bartlett, with 21 others, convicted of the same charge, to spend five days in the reformatory. A fine of $100 also was imposed on Dodge and his driver's license was revoked.

When Dodge completes his sentence he is to face a charge in Kalamazoo of illegally transporting liquor and a suit for $10,000 filed here on behalf of a newsboy alleged to have been injured by Dodge's automobile.

At the House of Correction, where reception of motorists of all standards has become a common occurrence since Judge Bartlett launched a campaign against reckless drivers, the formalities were not altered in any way last night to admit the young millionaire.

MISSOURI CONVICTS SEND $62 TO WOMAN WHO WAS SWINDLED

Say They Can't Let Public Think Such Small Principled Men Are in Prison.

Prisoners in the Missouri penitentiary have sent $62 to Miss Elizabeth Sutton, 60, living at the Christian Old People's Home at 6600 Washington avenue, to recompense her partly for her loss March 2 of $93, "borrowed" from her by a man who hired her to go to Danville, Ill., to be his housekeeper.

The contribution was the response of the prisoners to an editorial in the prison newspaper, The Weekly Clarion, under a caption: "Smoke Forty Cigarettes Less This Week."

Referring to the fact that the man who robbed the woman likely would eventually "bear a number just like us," the editorial stated: "Hell, you don't want the people to think that there are men of that caliber in here, do you?"

In transmitting their contributions, the convicts wrote that "the 'crooks' of the M. S. P. were so damned mad" at hearing of the theft that they wanted to help make it good.

TWO MORE VOICES IN MATZENAUER DISCORD

'50-Year-Old California Woman' and 'Mama' Grotzbach Join in Troubled Chorus.

Two more voices have been added to the discordant outburst in the domestic household of Mme. Margarete Matzenauer which, she said yesterday, she disrupted when she threw her "100 per cent" chauffeur-husband out of their New York apartment on Jan. 26 and then sued for divorce.

One is the treble of the "50-year-old" California woman whose letters, Mme. Matzenauer declared, caused her to believe her husband unfaithful. The woman, described in her home town of Carmel, Cal., as between 45 and 50 years old and the mother of three grown children, has plied her notes against the impassioned defense of the diva in defense of the "100 per cent man."

"I have known Floyd for 10 years," the woman said. "He is a fine young man. I heard from him often while he was away. He told me many of his experiences, but they were personally communicated and I am not at liberty to speak of them. One thing is certain—he is not the type of man who would want to be dependent upon anyone."

BIGAMIST WEEPS OVER DEATH OF WIFE NO. 6

'Marrying' Moore Sobbingly Admits He Can't Recall Name of Another He Loved.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 17.—"Marrying" Isiah Moore today mourned the death of one of his 13 wives—one of his two favorites.

The bigamist wept when he learned how Laura Shields of Spokane, Wash., No. 6 in his list of matrimonial ventures, had died of a broken heart after she deserted him following a brief honeymoon.

Without a sign of emotion, Moore, under a two-hour grilling by detectives, scanned letters and telegrams from wives, relatives of wives and women who thought—perhaps—he might be a missing husband. Then came the letter over which he wept.

Letter Describes Desecration. It was from Guy Shields of Detroit, brother of the sixth victim of Moore's quixotic love, and it told in detail how the wedding ceremony had been performed at Spokane in 1919, by Father Faust, a Catholic priest, and of an automobile trip and honeymoon at Seattle. Then it described the desertion by the arch-bigamist, who departed under pretext of buying a bakery in another city.

Moore sobbed as he said "she was one of the two wives I loved best." The other, he revealed, was "Beatie," whose other name he could not recall despite the great love he professes. Moore married Beatie on the other side of the continent—at Wilson, N. C.

An appeal to some of his numerous wives is to be made by Moore for them to be witnesses on his behalf when he goes on trial here on indictment charging him with bigamy, embezzlement and grand larceny.

Refers to Nervousness

Moore said his defense would be that his nervous condition at times caused him to be irresponsible, a fact which he said some of his wives could establish by their testimony, and which he said he would win leniency for him.

"I think I can depend on Helen Hardgrove of Augusta, Kan.," said Moore. "If she refuses to stand by me, I'll try some of the others."

Miss Hardgrove has denied being married to Moore, who in turn declared he was the man who became her husband under the name of J. H. Jarvis.

CHARGE OF HOLDING PRISONERS
BEYOND TIME LIMIT DISMISSED

Detective Sergeant Wetzel Was Accused of Holding Suspects More Than 20 Hours Without Specific Charge.

Charges of holding prisoners more than 20 hours without a specific charge having been placed against them, which had been made against Detective Sergeant Wetzel, were dismissed at the request of the prosecution in Court of Criminal Correction today. The complaining witnesses in the case originally were John J. Doyle, Luke Kennedy and James Hogan, ex-convicts.

Miss Lena Frank, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, informed the court that Doyle, who was to have been the principal witness, is now dead. Doyle was fatally shot in a revolver fight with detectives subsequent to issuance of the warrant. Hogan was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary Wednesday on charges of highway robbery. He is at liberty on appeal bond.

SENATORS URGE THAT U. S. DEMAND $241,000,000

Party Leaders Declare Payment for Expenses of Army on Rhine Should Be Insisted Upon.

HUGHES DRAFTING
NOTES TO ALLIES

Communications Will Give Views of U. S. on Matter and Show That Nation Expects Claims to Be Met.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Declaration that the United States should insist upon payment of its bill of $241,000,000 for keeping American soldiers in Germany were made in the Senate today by both party leaders—Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Underwood of Idaho.

Underwood also urged appointment of an American representative on the Allied Reparations Commission.

Both Senators Lodge and Underwood charged the allies with attempting "by a technicality" to oppose payment of the bill for the American troops, while Senator Borah said the allies' attitude was "entirely unwarranted."

Holds Republicans Responsible.

Senator Underwood asserted the Republicans were responsible for not having a member on the Reparations Commission. This, the Democratic leader asserted, was the only way in which the occupation claim could be collected. Senators Lodge and Poincaré, Republican, Washington, denied this contention, declaring that the obligation to pay for the American soldiers rested upon the armistice agreement and not upon either the treaty of Berlin or that of Versailles.

Senator Borah brought up the question today in the Senate. He called attention to reports that Premier Poincaré of France had declared that America has no legal right to collect for the keep of American troops in Germany.

"I have no doubt that Secretary Hughes will work out some method of securing payment," said Senator Borah, adding that he was however primarily interested in having all American troops brought out of Germany.

Would Bring Soldiers Home. "Our army was left in Europe supposedly to the benefit of the allies," said the Idaho Senator. "Certainly it was not for the benefit of the American people directly or particularly. It now appears that our army is no longer needed in Europe. It seems to me that the attitude of the allies is entirely unwarranted, and warrants us bringing home all of our soldiers."

Senator Borah added that the attitude of the allies in maintaining what he termed an excessive number of troops in Germany was "unjust" and calculated to prevent economic recovery of Germany and also of Europe. Senator Borah said the question of the return of the troops would be a "live issue" when the army appropriation bill comes before the Senate.

Underwood Concurs. Senator Underwood said he concurred in all that Senator Borah had said.

"I can see no reason," said the Democratic leader, "why a single American soldier should remain on the Rhine." The American troops were "invited" by the allies to remain in Germany, Underwood declared, and the American claim for their maintenance was a "just and proper" one.

"In right, justice and fair play," said Underwood, "the American Government is entitled to stand on the same basis and receive from Germany its proportionate pay for the soldiers. I regret very much that the allies are attempting to stand on a technicality in opposing payment."

Opposed to Joining Commission. Senator Poincaré, Republican, Washington, interjected that European troubles were largely political and economic and suggested that America would become involved in them by joining the Reparations Commission.

The Senator Lodge declared that the $241,000,000 bill had "nothing to do with the Reparations Commission," and that neither the Supreme Council nor any other body had the management of a claim which, he said, rested on the armistice agreement.

The argument momentarily was turned into another channel when Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, put into the record a statement reported to have been made at Naples, Italy, by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, to the effect that there were indications that the American Government made two grave mistakes by declining to become a member of the League of Nations and by refusing a place in the Geneva economic conference.

"No Mistake by Convention," "If the gentleman from Illinois is correctly quoted," said Senator Borah, "I am satisfied of one thing, at least, and that is that the Republican convention at Chicago didn't make a mistake when it declined to nominate him for President. But I have noticed before the peculiar influence of these European trips."

"We mustn't forget," interjected Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, "that they have no prohibition law over there."

Senator Lodge again declared that the troops were coming home as rapidly as practicable, and Senator Norris replied that he "hoped they all would come back."

"I hope so, too," replied Lodge. Norris concluded with the observation that if the United States would submit to this "decree" of the allies they might properly reach the decision "that they can refuse to pay anything else and get away with it." He added that if "Uncle Sam" has reached that condition "I'd like to call a halt and wake him up."

Secretary Hughes was engaged today in drafting identical notes which will be sent to the allied Governments setting forth the views of the United States on its demand for payment of the $241,000,000.

While no intimation was given concerning the text of the notes, it was said at the State Department that the forthcoming communications would show that the United States expected its rights to payment to be fully met.

The United States, it has been asserted by State Department officials, had no intention of agreeing to anything less than the $241,000,000 in the matter of time and demanded, but would be reasonable payment.

"BACK-TO-THE-FARM" MOVEMENT IS ON IN JASPER COUNTY, MO.Increase of Last Year Is Laid to Added Interest in Small Truck Farms.Joplin, Mo.—Jasper County is witnessing an active "back to the farm" movement, according to John F. Wise, Joplin banker and vicepresident of the Joplin special road district. Wise has a new method to determine the movement back to the farm. The method is based on the poll tax enumeration.
Since last year there has been an increase in the population of Jasper County outside cities and towns, according to Wise. The increased population of the farm and the movement in general is due to the increased interest in the small truck farm work, Wise believes.CONFESSIONS SAID TO CLEAR TWO OF HOLDUPChauffeurs Say Men Identified by Druggist Were Innocent; Inquiry to Continue.Although confessions made by two chauffeurs, Joseph B. Dooley, 24, of 4424 Delmar boulevard, and Ralph Kerscheval, 24, of 5011A Delmar, as to their part in a holdup of M. F.
Maple in front of his home, 1313
Blondie place, Dec. 18 last, exonerate two of three men now under indictment for the robbery, further investigation of the case will be made, Circuit Attorney Sidener announced today.
"I believe Kerscheval and Dooley are telling the truth as to the part they played in the holdup, and so will take their cases before the grand jury Tuesday," the Circuit Attorney said. "I am not yet satisfied, however, that everything has come to light concerning the identity of their companions, and will make no move to dismiss the charges against the men supposed to have been cleared by the confessions, until their cases come up in court March 31."The confessions declared that Louis N. Franke Jr., 23, 5954 Maple avenue, and Eugene Quinn, 35, of 4330A Linton avenue, both identified by Maple the day after the robbery as being two of four men who took $21 in money, $150 watch and a $450 diamond ring from him, had no part in the holdup, and that Robert Reinke, 22, of 726 Bayard avenue, the third man identified and later indicted, had merely been the driver of the automobile which was used in the holdup.Reinke and Watch Returned.
Maple's ring and his watch were mysteriously returned to him yesterday at his drug store at Vandeventer avenue and Olive street by a stranger who slipped a package in his hand during a rush of business and told him it was for him personally.
Efforts had previously been made,
police say, by Louis N. Franke Sr., father of one of the men indicted after the robbery, to have the lost of the robbery returned to Maple if he would drop the case.According to the confessions of Kerscheval and Dooley, young Franke had nothing to do with the robbery beyond allowing Reinke to borrow his father's automobile, the car later used in the holdup. It was through the license number of the machine that young Franke, Reinke and Quinn were arrested later that night.Engineered by Fourth Man.
Kerscheval and Dooley declared in a conference with Sidener and Maple yesterday that a fourth man, for whom police are searching, engineered the holdup and that they took part because they feared him.
Being threatened with prosecution by the father of young Franke, who, through Reinke's movements, had obtained some inkling as to the identity of the holdup men, this fourth man is said to have bought back the diamond ring, which had been sold, and to have made arrangements for turning it over to the elder Franke.
Police learned something of these movements and Wednesday arrested Kerscheval and Dooley. Their confessions followed.SHOW GIVEN TO PROMOTE PLAN TO RETAIN SCHOOL TAX RATEBoys and Girls of Clark School Impersonate Members of Board of Education.Boys and girls of the Clark School, Union boulevard and Cass avenue, impersonated members of the Board of Education and officials, in costume, at a performance yesterday afternoon before about 400 mothers and at another one in the evening for about 300 fathers. Their production, which was entitled "The Passing Show," was in support of the proposal which will be voted on March 28 for the maintenance of the school tax at the present rate of 55 cents on the $100 for the next four years.Mannerisms of the persons portrayed were copied with care by the little actors, some of whom were as young as 3 years. Mrs. E. Bush, only woman member of the board,
was impersonated by Jocelyn Taylor,
7 years old; Superintendent Maddox, Secretary Charles Mason, Carl Rathmann and Miss Lathrop, assistant superintendents; Miss E. G. Campbell, principal; a teacher, parents, school children and election officials were mimicked, many of the lines having been prepared by the children themselves. Their teachers showed them the mannerisms.There were a number of speakers at each performance and the proposal was unanimously endorsed.
School principals held a mass meeting at the Board of Education today and discussed plans for house-to-house canvasses by school children and "patrons" on election day, to get out the vote. The League of Women Voters will send post cards to all women voters telling them the location of their polling places.The League of Foreign Voters has unanimously endorsed the proposal.
The subject is being presented to foreign clubs under the direction of G.
V. R. Mechin. The Junior Chamber of Commerce recently endorsed the proposal.Tide Water Oil Dividend Deferred.NEW YORK, March 11.—Directors of the Tide Water Oil Co., formerly affiliated with the Standard Oil Co., yesterday decided that, "by reason of conditions in the oil trade, the present is an opportune time to determine the dividend policy of the company for the year and, hence, will not declare a quarterly dividend, payable on March 31, as has been the custom in recent years." The

FEMININE INVASION THREATENS ANOTHER MASCULINE SPORT

Girls Almost Numerous as Boys in Sidewalk Marble Tournaments in Boston.

BOSTON, March 17.—The boys of Greater Boston are making a stand against the feminine invasion of a sport almost exclusively their own, the game of marbles. On the sidewalks of the suburbs, signs of spring appeared. Marbles, forced to go to the streets, have found girls almost as numerous as boys in the games. The boys play for keeps, too, and often with a skill that has sent their own and other brothers home marbled. As a result, the girls also nowadays have hands soiled and faces muddled, and mothers find it hard to lament the tread of the treads.

Another change in the conditions of the game as played by the new generation is the substitution of pencils for the marbles and glasses that were the objects of shot and roll in the old days.

STOCK DIVIDEND NOT DECLARED.
NEW YORK, March 17.—Directors of the Crucible Steel Co. at a meeting yesterday, decided not to declare a dividend on the common stock, giving as the reason the long period of depression in the steel business and the uncertainty of the month of time before return to normal conditions.

"COURT IS USED TO NURSE SICK FIRMS ALONG"

Judge Faris Declares Small Creditors Suffer From Methods of "Lame" Concerns.

REMARK AT HEARING OF RECEIVER'S PLEA

Jurist Tired of Having Court Used to Restore Financial Breath in Bankruptcy Cases, He States.

Federal Judge Faris, who declared in court last Tuesday that applications for receiverships for concerns against which involuntary bankruptcy proceedings had been filed were "merely a device of members of the bar to mulct bankrupt estates," got another chance today to express his opinion of some bankruptcy proceedings. He declared that the Federal Court is being used to "nurse along sick and lame industrial organizations, which is not its purpose," and that small creditors are suffering as a result.

The Judge's remarks were aroused by the application of Louis Mayer, attorney for the receivers of the Warren Steel Casting Co., for permission for the issuance of $15,000 worth of receiver's certificates, to bear 8 per cent interest.

"Eight per cent is high; why not make it 6?" the Judge demanded.

Mayer said he had been told the certificates would not sell with that interest rate.

"6 Per Cent in Another Case," "I had a similar application the other day in the Best-Clymer case," the Judge said, "and those certificates are to be at 6 per cent. The receivers told me they could obtain the money, too."

Mayer said the rate of 8 per cent was suggested "tentatively."

"You can rest assured," the Judge replied, "that no bankers will come around while you have that rate and lend you money at 2 1/2 per cent."

Mayer said they didn't want the certificates to run a long time, and was told they wouldn't be granted for longer than 60 days. The Judge went on:

"I may as well state now that this Court is getting very suspicious of the uses it is being put to in these bankruptcy matters. There are pending here now between 20 and 50 cases instituted by larger creditors of various industrial concerns, which ought to be adjudicated and administered, and they are kept lingering in this Court, nursed along until they can draw their financial breath. That is not the purpose of the bankruptcy laws."

"Nursing Sick Organizations," "If these concerns are bankrupt and insolvent they should be administered for the benefit of all creditors. I am tired of having this court used for the purpose of nursing along sick and lame industrial organizations."

Mayer got in a word to the effect that such was not the purpose in his case, and added that the receivers had not asked for a cent of compensation.

"Perhaps not," the Judge commented, "but I can assure you that that won't slip their minds."

Mayer said that if this receiver'ship is administered now, the creditors will get nothing, but they might get their money back by later administration.

"That's the objectionable feature," said the Judge. "The larger creditors can well afford to wait for their money, but I have a number of letters from smaller creditors in various cases, telling the difficulties they are put to because they can't get their money."

Sets Rate at 7 Per Cent.
The Judge concluded to compromise the application by granting the certificates to bear not more than 7 per cent interest, rate he set himself, and to run not more than 60 days. Mayer asked leave to hire a public accountant to prepare a claim in abatement, to oppose an attempt by the Government to collect $25,000 claimed to be due as excess profits tax.

"How much will it cost?" was the question from the bench.

"Oh, I'm told $200 or $300," the attorney answered.

"You'll have to put that figure in the order," began the Judge's last comment. "This Court has had some experience. I recall vividly having made an order for the employment of accountants in a case where the total assets were $10,000, and the accountants charged $2400. I don't know if this bill was paid, but we can't be stung again."

Fred L. Corwell, a lawyer, and Samuel Niccola, former vice president of a trust company, are receivers for the Warren Steel Casting Co., against which two petitions in involuntary bankruptcy were filed April 12, 1932. The plant is at 2400 Maury avenue.

Flags in Churches Slashed.

By the Associated Press.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 17.—Local churches have been the victims of a "flag slasher," believed to be a woman, who in the last four weeks has slashed to ribbons American flags hanging on the altars and about auditoriums of three churches.

At the Grace Baptist Church, the pastor some time ago encountered a woman who launched a tirade against him for permitting flags to be hung in the church.

FORMER MAJOR GETS LIFE SENTENCE FOR KILLING MAN

Lee H. Coart Receives Verdict Calmly—Relatives of Wife Say She Will Sue for Divorce.

By the Associated Press.

TALBOTTON, Ga., March 17.—The jury today returned a verdict of guilty, recommending mercy in the case of Lee H. Coart, former Major in the army, who has been on trial here charged with the murder last fall of A. B. McNiece, former Superintendent of Talbot County Schools.

Coart testified he shot and killed McNiece when he thought McNiece was drawing a knife during an argument over McNiece's alleged attentions to Mrs. Coart. Mrs. McNiece testified Coart had tried to force his attentions on her.

A verdict of guilty with a recommendation for mercy, carries a sentence of life in the penitentiary.

Maj. Coart received the verdict calmly. Several women members of his family collapsed, and Coart tried to comfort them.

Judge Munro later sentenced Coart to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Coart, her relatives say, is having drawn up a suit for divorce and will ask that she be permitted again to assume the name of her first husband, Holmes Frederick of Marshallville, who was killed in an elevator accident in Atlanta several years ago.

Advance on Mexico Crude Oil.

By the Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 17.—The Humble Oil and Refining Co. advanced the price of Mexico crude 25 cents to $1.50 a barrel, effective today. The advance was met immediately by the Texas Pipe Line Co. Previous price for Mexico posted crude was $1.25 a barrel at the well.

Russian Dancer Sued by Lawyer.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 17.—Theodore Kosloff, Russian dancer and ballet master, and his wife, Alexandra Kosloff, were made defendants in a suit for $5000 filed in the United States District Court here today by Charles McChapman, New York attorney.

JAPANESE FORCES TO WITHDRAW

Troops to Be Replaced by Chinese Along Railways.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Japanese Embassy announced last night it had received a telegram from Tokyo stating that the Japanese Government, without awaiting ratification of the Shantung treaty negotiated during the armament conference here, has instructed the Japanese Minister at Peking to arrange with the Chinese Government for the replacement, according to the terms of the treaty, of Japanese troops and gendarmes with Chinese forces along the Tientsin-Tsinanfu Railway.

The Japanese Government, it was announced, had decided to complete the withdrawal of their railway guards by May 4.

WOMAN'S DEATH AN ACCIDENT

Coroner's Jury So Holds in Case of Mrs. Zimmerman, Hit by Auto.

A verdict of accident was returned by a Coroner's Jury yesterday in the case of Mrs. Anna Zimmerman, 68 years old, a widow, of 2164 Papin street, who died Monday of a cerebral paralytic stroke said to have been caused from injuries suffered on April 28, 1921, when struck by an automobile at Grand and Chouteau avenues, driven by Jacob Wertich of 1609 Menard street.

Wertich said that Mrs. Zimmerman stepped in front of his machine before he could stop it. Several witnesses corroborated his testimony and said that Mrs. Zimmerman was carrying an umbrella which prevented her from seeing the approaching automobile.

BANK BOOKS ORDERED IN TRIAL OF GOV. SMALL

Accountants to Examine Records in Trial of Illinois Executive.

By the Associated Press.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 17.—Judge Edwards today ordered the books of the Grant Park Trust and Savings Bank and the Curtis Trust Co., both of Grant Park, Ill., produced in court here next Tuesday for examination by accountants for the State in the trial of Gov. Len Small. Books Were Removed to Kankakee. As previously agreed on, the books were to have been examined at the bank at Grant Park. Today's order was entered by the Court after James H. Wilkerson, Assistant Attorney General, told the Court the books had been removed to Kankakee and the accountants refused access to them except under the surveillance of a representative of the defense.

Vice President Bratton of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Kankakee, Gov. Small's own bank, whose books are also to be examined by the prosecution, opposed giving the State access to the records without a representative of the bank being present.

Books and Papers Wanted.

The subpoenas for the bank records directed the production of all books and papers relating to the accounts and transactions of the following from Jan. 1, 1917, to July 20, 1921:

Len Small, State Treasurer; Len Small, individually; Fred E. Sterling, State Treasurer; Fred E. Sterling, individually; V. C. Curtis; E. C. Curtis; E. C. and Brothers, Vernon Curtis, Edward C. Curtis; the "so-called Grant Park Bank," Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank and Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago; the defunct Fort Dearborn National Bank, the National City Co., Chicago; W. R. Compton & Co., Chicago; Livestock Exchange Bank and Corn Exchange Bank, Chicago; the Handicrafts Bond Co., Chicago; Morris & Co., Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., and Cudahy & Co., Chicago, packers, and the books of each bank relating to its transactions with the others.

The State alleges in the case against Gov. Small, who is scheduled to go on trial April 3, charged with conspiracy to embezzle State funds while he was State Treasurer, that more than $10,000,000 in funds of the State was loaned to the Chicago packers through the "so-called Grant Park Bank," and that only a portion of the interest received was paid into the State treasury.

MRS. CLYMER'S BROTHER ASKS THAT 1913 WILL BE PROBATED

Additional Litigation Over $400,000 Estate Is Begun in Circuit.

Court at Clayton.

Further litigation over the $400,000 estate of Mrs. Eliza A. W. Clymer of Clayton, who made her money in St. Louis' downtown real estate, was begun today when her brother, George M. von Schrader, petitioned the Circuit Court at Clayton to recognize a will she made June 12, 1913, and order it probated.

In this will, Mrs. Clymer, who died Feb. 18, 1920, left her entire estate to her brother, George M. von Schrader, with the exception of bequests of $5000 each to two sisters and two other brothers. The estate left to George von Schrader, under the terms of the will, was to be held in trust and the income used for the support and education of Von Schrader's son, Dana von Schrader.

In April, 1921, a jury at Clayton set aside a will made by Mrs. Clymer Dec. 2, 1915, in which she left her entire estate to her nephew, Dana von Schrader, on the ground, as contesting heirs contended, that she was of unsound mind when the will was made.

Mrs. Clymer's real estate holdings include the southeast corner of Eighth and St. Charles streets, occupied by the Mercantile Trust Co.

SALE OF MASONIC SITE HALTED

Temporary Restraining Order Issued on Stockholder's Plea.

A temporary restraining order forbidding the sale on March 22, as planned, of the property of the Masonic Sanitarium and Training Co., at Euclid and Clayton avenues, was granted by Judge Hall today upon petition of Mrs. Sadie C. Lanphear, a stockholder.

The company began erection of a sanitarium in 1908, but got no further than a foundation and has done nothing since. Mrs. Lanphear declares. She asserts also that the officers and directors have disagreed among themselves and recently refused an offer of $12,000 for the property.

The deed of trust is for $4500. The defendants named are Drs. Louis H. Behrens, James M. Ball, Floyd Stewart and Louis C. Robbins, and Mrs. Naomi Ball.

Shoemakers to Seek Added Wage Cut

By the Associated Press.

BROCKTON, Mass., March 17.—The Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' Association will seek a further wage reduction on the ground that the 10 per cent cut ordered recently by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration was not sufficient to meet a demand for good quality shoes at lower prices. The association, in an announcement today, to the 19 Brockton locals of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, said that at the expiration of the 60-day period provided by agreement it intended to ask the board to reopen the general wage issue. The 10 per cent reduction, the announcement said, was not commensurate with reduced living costs.

Seven hundred miles of the coastal section of Peru have been the battleground of the campaign and the estimate of $500,000 for the 1921 campaign. In the last 18 months Dr. Hanson and his associates have fought heroically to keep back the advancing lines of the enemy, for the fear of a yellow fever epidemic would spread south to Lima, the Peruvian capital, and to Guayaquil, Ecuador, but the campaign has resulted in a victory.

There have been no cases since July, 1921, but the work is still going on as a matter of insurance. Dr. Hanson is now working in the coastal region in the south and will continue until about May. They do not intend to leave the faintest doubt in the mind of the people that the danger of yellow fever lurking in Peru. This is expected to be the last yellow fever campaign on the Pacific coast of South America.

GREAT SAVINGS ARE PLANNED IN POSTAL SHAKE-UPS

Economies of Hundreds of Thousands Expected to Be Made in Reorganization of 100 Offices.

EXCLUSIVE STATEMENT MADE BY DR. WORK

"Prefer to Do Work First and Tell About It Later."
He Says—Local Results to Be Standard.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, March 17.—
Postmaster-General Work told the correspondent today in an exclusive statement that he expected to effect a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars through the reorganization of 100 large offices on more efficient business lines.

This work is going forward in St.
Louis, Cleveland, Boston, Baltimore, Pueblo, Denver, Detroit, Rochester and other cities and will be extended as fast as possible.

One of the first present needs of the service, according to the new Postmaster-General, is more inspectors. He has asked Congress for money to add 100 men to the present inspection force of 415.
"While postal receipts in the last 10 years have increased 106 per cent," said Dr. Work, "the cost of inspection has increased but 79 per cent. Our inspection cost is 33-100 of 1 per cent of the postal receipts.
The average cost of an inspector for salary and expenses is $3913 a year.
"For every dollar added to the cost of inspection we save $3 through the installation of better business methods in the big offices.

"Prefer to Do Work First."
"The public has a wrong idea of postoffice inspectors. They are not primarily crime hunters, but men seeking to improve the service through the application of constructive ideas gained in a long experience."

Dr. Work said he was not prepared to make a specific forecast as to the amount that would be saved through the reorganization work in progress, but was convinced from the results already obtained that it would run into the hundreds of thousands.

"We prefer," he said, "to do the work first and tell about it later.
Reorganization of an office is affected by inspectors working in cooperation with the Postmaster. It consists in part in adapting the man to the job rather than the job to the man."

Other items are the re-routing of carrier districts, the elimination of unnecessary clerk hire, re-arrangement of the working floors, improvement in the methods of handling accounts in general, the reduction of "lost motion" to a minimum.

St. Louis to Be Standard.
In one office recently reorganized by inspectors, Dr. Work said savings already were running at the rate of considerably more than $100,000 a year.

Dr. Work said he was watching with interest the work being done at St. Louis, where a complete reorganization of the office, begun by inspectors during the interregnum after the end of Postmaster Selph's term, is being pushed to completion under his successor. He had no doubt, he said, that a large saving would be shown in that office. He said he would give personal attention to a report recently made by the inspectors in charge, R. P. Aldrich and C. E. Caine, as soon as it came to him.

After the study of the report by the Postmaster-General, it will go to the division of postoffice service, headed by W. R. Spilman, which expects to find in it information that will be of value in the general economic campaign.

GOODS THROWN FROM EXPRESS CAR BY ROBBERS RECOVERED

Negro Arrested as Suspect in Illinois
Theft Attempt; Three Other Men Escape.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 17.—A closed and locked express car of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train No. 17, bound from Chicago to the Coast,
was looted of a quantity of merchandise early today near Williamsfield, Ill. All of the loot, which had been thrown from the car, was recovered and a suspect, Henry Johnson, negro, was arrested when the train reached Galesburg. Three other men were seen to run from the train.
They escaped.

The thieves selected a quantity of goods, chiefly clothing, which was thrown out of the car. Local representatives of the railroad recovered all the goods, according to reports received here. Special agents were sent from Chicago to question Johnson.

Stares at Robber and He Runs.

By the Associated Press.
BERKELEY, Cal., March 17.—
Mrs. Amy C. Vaughn, 50, mother of three children, was too much for an armed highwayman in the Berkeley Hills late yesterday. Despite his leveled revolver she refused to put up her hands, deliver her money, or drop her handbag and retreat, as she was ordered. After announcement, stoutly made that she was going home, disarmed the would-be robber. He turned and fled.

POLICEMEN WANT FULL PAY UNDER ACT OF LEGISLATURE

Committee Asks Board of Estimate to Provide Against Deduction of 5 Per Cent.

A committee representing captains, lieutenants and patrolmen of the Police Department today petitioned the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to allow the members of the police force the full rate of pay specified in the act passed at the last session of the State Legislature.

Under a clause of the statute the city was permitted to deduct 5 per cent of the policemen's wages under the new scale, provided there were not sufficient funds in the city treasury to meet the increased payroll. That was done last year. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment now is preparing the budget for the fiscal year, beginning April 18.

The increased rate of pay gives patrolmen $145 a month, lieutenants $240 a year and Captains $270 a year. With the 5 per cent deduction the patrolmen are receiving $140 a month, lieutenants $181.75 a month and captains $256 a year.

If the Board of Estimate and Apportionment sees its way clear to let the police have their full wages, $80,000 will be added to the police payroll for the fiscal year of 1932-1933.

AUTO PARTY IS ROBBED IN FRONT OF HOME OF HOSTS

Highwayman Steps on Running Board and Takes $28 and Jewelry Values at $365

A young man armed with a revolver stepped on the running board of an automobile occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bressler of 3437 Franklin avenue, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Don S. Graham of 3338 South Compton avenue, in front of the Bressler home at 11:20 last night and, pointing the weapon inside the machine, remarked: "Everybody keep quiet. I'll run this show."

He ordered the occupants to "hand over" their money and valuables. They reported losses as follows: Bressler, $28 and a pin valued at $100 taken from his tie; Mrs. Bressler, four diamond rings valued at $200, taken from her fingers, and Graham, $3 and a pin valued at $65. After putting the money and jewelry in his pocket the robber stepped off the machine and as he backed away remarked: "Stay quiet until I get out of sight or it'll go hard with you."

The Bresslers and their guests had just stepped into the machine preparatory to a ride to the Graham home when the robbery occurred.

DECISION ON STILLMAN APPEAL IS RESERVED

Banker Seeking Divorce Would Avoid Having Testimony Taken in Canada.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 17.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn today postponed decision on an appeal by James A. Stillman, banker, from an order of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser, appointing a commission to take testimony in Canada in the divorce suit brought by him against his wife.

Almet F. Jenks, counsel for Stillman, told the court that the banker had already paid $145,000 to Mrs. Stillman for her support and the defense of the suit since it was filed. The proposed Canadian hearing, he said, "looked less like an investigation than an investment."

Counsel for Mrs. Stillman insisted that the hearings were necessary to disprove the banker's charges that she had been guilty of misconduct with Fred Bearvale, Indian guide. It also was alleged by her counsel that J. Albert La Fontaine had been engaged by Stillman's representatives to bribe witnesses to testify against her. No proof of this alleged bribery had been offered, Jenks said.

AIR TANK HAS AERIAL FLIGHT

Container at Filling Station Explodes and Sails Through the Roof.

An employee yesterday at 4 p. m. turned on an air pump which supplies a compressed air tank in the Schmitts' filling station at 2409 South Broadway and then went out to wait on a customer.

In a few minutes, the tank, 6 by 2 feet, exploded, rose 100 feet through the roof of the station and, descending, imbedded itself about 18 inches in the wooden block paving in the street.

The damage to the station was about $250. Several windows in nearby buildings were broken.

MURDER OF GIRL CHARGED

Young Texas Woman Killed After Going to Meet Man.

By the Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., March 17.—Charges were filed today against Fred M. McChord, formerly of Cleveland, in connection with the death of Miss Louise Frenzel, 23 years old, of El Paso.

The young woman's body was found near her home last Monday night with a bullet wound in her head. Her parents told city detectives that she had gone to fill an engagement with McChord the evening she was killed.

Relatives of Dead Man Sought.

Policewomen are seeking relatives here of Edward Brady, 63 years old, who died in a hospital at Granite City this week. Brady formerly lived at 3729 North Ninth street, and is believed to have relatives here, at Pacific, Mo., and in Florissant. Mrs. Royals of 1402 Penrose street told the police she would defray the expenses of a funeral because Brady formerly was employed by her husband.

POINCARÉ DECLARES FRANCE WILL PAY DEBT TO 'AMERICA'

Premier's Statement Thought to Be Intended to Correct Impression Given by Loucheur.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 17.—Premier Poincaré told the Finance Committee of the Senate yesterday that France will pay all her debts, as has been her custom. This declaration is interpreted by the press as intended to correct the impression made by Louis P. Loucheur's speech in Lyons last month in which he said it was his belief that France never would be able to pay a sou of her debt to the United States.

M. Poincaré's statement is commented upon as harmonizing with the declaration made by former Premier Viviani a year ago, and the more recent assurance given by Minister of Finance De Lasteyrie that France will fulfill every obligation.

YOUTH HANGED IN JAIL AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

Protest of Irish Freedom Sons Fails to Halt Execution on St. Patrick's Day.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 17.—John McHenry, 24 years old, former New London, Conn. youth, was hanged in the District of Columbia jail, today, for the murder of a Washington city detective and automobile dealer. Efforts to obtain a commutation to life imprisonment were continued up to the last, but failed. President Harding having refused to intervene in the matter.

An attempt to prevent the hanging today was made by the local branch of the Sons of Irish Freedom, whose officers said the taking of McHenry's life today would amount to a desecration of the feast day of Ireland's patron saint.

McHenry was found guilty of killing an automobile dealer, while attempting to rob the dealer's place of business and of killing the detective in an endeavor to escape. It was brought out at his trial that he had served sentences in New England reformatories and other penal institutions. At the time of his arrest he said he formerly lived in St. Louis, but could not remember his address there.

POLICE BAND OF 28 MEN PARADES DOWNTOWN, ADVERTISING CIRCUS

Creditable First Appearance Follows Weekly Practice Since Last December.

Last December, 28 policemen polished up their tubas and their saxophones, today they were trotters in the cops' brass band. With two hours and a half practice every Wednesday afternoon for three months they fitted themselves to make a credible first appearance in public at noon today, when they paraded from Police Headquarters at Twelfth street and Clark avenue, through downtown streets and back, the occasion being seized to advertise the police circus which will be held the week of April 17.

The band was organized at the suggestion of Police Commissioner Brockman and recruited among members who already owned and played instruments. Henry J. Falkenhainer, bandmaster, trained the men to play in harmony. Capt. Loepker of Central District is the ranking bandman, playing a euphonium. Lieut. James Moran of the North Market Street District is drum major; Sgt. Henry plays a tuba, and the rest of the members are patrolmen and three clerks. The instruments used are: Cornet, tenor horn, saxophone, clarinet, trombone, tuba, bass drum, cymbals, snare drum and piccolo.

Wesley (Freckles) Barry, 24-year-old motion picture star, was given a patrolman's cap and star at headquarters by Chief O'Brien and Mayor Kiel, and led the parade through the shopping district. The band stopped at the Federal Building and "Freckles" mounted, addressing the police circus tickets. Crowds watched the parade.

1000 AT CARNIVAL OPENING NEW WASHINGTON U. POOL

Structure Donated by Daughter of One of Founders of University Cost About $100,000.

The new Washington University swimming pool, the gift of Mrs. Newton R. Wilson of 4 Brentmoor Park, a daughter of William Glasgow Jr., one of the founders of the university, was formally opened at a water carnival last night directed by W. E. Longfellow, national field life saving secretary of the American Red Cross.

Nearly 1000 guests were given an opportunity of inspecting the building which included, besides the pool, 36 by 75 feet, and from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 feet deep, shower baths, locker and dressing rooms, and a spectators' balcony, with a seating capacity of 1000. The building is two stories high, of red granite, and adjoins the north side of Francis gymnasium at the west end of the campus. At the request of Mrs. Wilson the cost of the building was not made known, but it is estimated at $100,000.

The presentation was made by William Glasgow Bruce Carson, a nephew of Mrs. Wilson and an instructor in English at the university. The building was accepted on behalf of the university by Chancellor Frederic A. Hall. The water carnival followed, featured by life saving demonstrations by Commodore Longfellow, a high-diving exhibition by Miss Betty Grimes, national high dive champion for 1912-1920, and a water polo game.

BUILDING LABORERS TAKE CUT
Alton Workers Vote for 10 Per Cent Reduction.
Building laborers in Alton have taken a 10 per cent voluntary reduction in wages. At a meeting of the International Hodcarriers, Building and Concrete Workers' Union the members voted to take 6 1/2 cents an hour instead of 75 cents. The action was taken, according to C. E. Oldham, president, in order to stimulate building operations in Alton. Some time ago the bricklayers accepted a wage reduction.

KAHN HOLDS PROPOSED CUT IN ARMED FORCES IS TOO GREAT
Chairman of Military Affairs Committee Sounds Warning Against "False Economy."
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 17.—
Warning members of Congress that "False economy is the poorest kind of economy," Chairman Kahn of the House Military Affairs Committee, declared today during consideration of the army appropriation bill, that a reduction in the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers, as proposed in the measure, would be "altogether too drastic a cut at this time."
The California Representative held that pay provision should be made for 150,000 men and 13,000 officers during the economic fiscal year, as requested by the War Department, or that if Congress were determined to direct a reduction in the interests of economy, the enlisted strength not be decreased below 140,000 men.
"Lately it has seemed to become profitable on the part of a good many of the men in Congress to insist on cutting down the allowances for our army and navy," Kahn said.
"Economy is the watchword of a good many Legislatures. But let me call the attention of the House to the fact that false economy is the poorest kind of economy."
During the fiscal year 1921, the House was told, when appropriations for the regular army, National Guard and the organized reserves aggregated $418,000,000, the public spent $897,000,000 for admission to theaters, concerts, cabarets, baseball games and other entertainments;
$1,151,000,000 for tobacco and related materials; $750,000,000 for candy and chewing gum; $834,000, 000 for sodas and confections, and $959,000,000 for personal adornment.

MOTION FILED FOR REHEARING OF METHUDY DIVORCE CASE
Attorneys for Mrs. Methudy Declare Ward Politics Were Involved in Matter.
A motion for a rehearing in the Methudy divorce case was filed today in the St. Louis Court of Appeals by attorneys for Mrs. Edna Methudy.
The Court recently affirmed the degree of divorce granted to her husband, Eugene R. Methudy, by Circuit Judge Cahoun. One of the allegations of Mrs. Methudy's lawyers, in the recent hearing before the Court of Appeals, was that the case was involved in an issue of ward politics, in which Judge Cahoun was interested.
Mrs. Methudy's lawyers, Randolph Laughlin and Albert C. Davis, renew the charge of political influence in the motion for a rehearing. They declare that the Court, by affirming the divorce decree, "would ram the suspected judgment down the throats of the litigant, her counsel and an entire community reeking with distrust," and "that the Court would deny even the pretense of review, and compel them to digest the venom of their suspicion, though it do split them in the act. You will serve no-

PLATINUM FOUND IN ALBANIA MAY AFFECT RUSSIAN DEPOSIT
Tract Controlled by Soviets May Cause to Be World's Chief Source of Supply.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 17.—Discovery of vast deposits of platinum in Albania was announced yesterday by Constantine A. Checkrez, Commissioner from Albania to the United States, in a letter to H. Foster Bain, director of the United States Bureau of Mines.
Platinum had been unearthed several weeks ago by Prof. Sanderholm of the University of Helsinki, the letter said, and was found in sufficient quantities to warrant belief that the deposits in the Thracian Mountains, controlled by the Russian soviet Government, would lose their prestige as the world's chief supply of the precious metal.
It was said also that considerable quantities of authentic coal had been discovered by Prof. Sander-holm, who was described as one of Europe's foremost geologists.

FILM MERGER PLANNED
Consolidation of Goldwyn and First National Corporations Being Arranged.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 17.—Negotiations are under way which probably will bring about the consolidation of the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation with the Associated First National Pictures, thus combining one of the largest producers in the film industry with what perhaps is the greatest distributing organization.
Frank J. Godsol, new president of the Goldwyn company, and J. D.
Williams, president of the First National organization, are at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Atlantic City, where they have been in consultation several days. With them are several others prominent in the motion picture industry, such as E. J. Bowry, J. J. Allen, E. J. Johnson, F. N.
Brockell, Garvel Spring, H.
Schwalbe, Jules Mastbaum, Moe

The President's Platform

Effective today in 60 Regal Stores

THE World has passed through a period of Inflation and Deflation. The War is over. Business is fast getting back to normal. Every one is making a readjustment and rearrangement of business policies that they were forced to adopt when the War turned everything upside down and inside out.

Now everyone in this organization has both feet on the ground once more. I'm back on the job, and I've put this business back on the old Platform that I adopted when I started this business 28 years ago, that is,

One Profit—One Quality—One Price

WHEN I returned from France, after the Armistice, I found that some "Multiple Stores" had introduced "Multiple Prices." I guess they were afraid that War Prices would scare their old customers away, so they introduced "Multiple Grades" and "Multiple Profits."

Coming direct from the Training Camps on the other side, it looked to me as if Business in America was trying to multiply everyone into multi-millionaires. When Business Men talked about Profits, the figures they used sounded to me like another Liberty Loan.

The disease was contagious and the germ spread in our organiza- tion. Now, I'm not going to have an Endless Chain of Prices in the Regal Chain of Stores, and starting today, we are going to cut out "Multiple Prices," "Multiple Grades" and "Multiple Profits" and do business on our old Platform of

The Leather Market jumped like a sky rocket when the submarines shut off the leather supply. We first had to raise our price and later had to change the price, and then introduce different prices to keep in touch with the Leather Market which jumped around faster than the Stock Market.

Now the price of Leather is back and the price of Labor is coming down, and shoes which were sold for $16.00 and $18.00, when we went over the top, we can now sell for one price, $6.80. All Sizes and Widths, All Styles and Leathers.

In other announcements I'm going to talk about "Factory Facts," "Store Savings" and "Cutting the Cost of Distribution." I'm going to tell you how the $6.80 price was made possible this year by putting the knife in Leather Costs, Averaging Labor Costs, eliminating unnecessary Over-head, Reducing Inventories, Increasing Production and Cutting our Selling Cost in two, by selling All Leathers, All Styles at One Profit and One Price.

UNDER DEATH SENTENCE FOR 18 YEARS, IS FREED

Oklahoma Negro's Plight Comes to an End Through Presidential Pardon Recently Issued.

By the Associated Press
McALESTER, Ok.—Kid Kelly, negro under death sentence for 18 years who has been held in prison since the territorial days of Oklahoma without even commitment papers, walked out of the State penitentiary here this week a free man. Kelly owes his release to President Harding, who signed a pardon received at the penitentiary, and to an Oklahoma City newspaper man, who discovered the negro's plight a year ago. According to prison officials technically there has never been any authority for holding Kelly in prison.

The prisoner's status resulted from differences between the Federal and State courts over jurisdiction in the case. Kelly was first tried in a Federal court when Oklahoma was a territory, but then came statehood, and on subsequent appeals both the Federal and State courts disclaimed jurisdiction. He was convicted of killing Jim Dillingham, another negro in 1905.

When the case was brought to light a year ago a movement immediately was started to free Kelly or set the date of execution of sentence. The matter was brought to the attention of President Harding and the executive pardon definitely settled the question.

Kelly walked away from the prison farm several years ago while acting as a trusty.

Sometimes later he was found at Taylor, Tex., and brought back to the penitentiary. He made the return trip without protest. If he had resisted, according to prison officials, he could not have been brought back because a demand for extradition must have exact copies of the original commitment order attached.

72,000 IN LONDON DEPENDENT ON OLD-AGE ALLOWANCE

About 10,000 Aged Persons Also Receiving Free Care in Institutions.—Most of Pensioners Women.

LONDON, March 17.—More than 72,000 persons in London are dependent on the old-age allowance, according to figures just announced. In addition about 10,000 septuagenarians are in workhouses or hospitals, receiving free medical treatment and clothing, or under the care of the guardians.

More than two-thirds of the old-age pensioners are women. The totals show a considerable decrease over 1924, although there is a marked increase in the number of women.

A maximum of 10 shillings weekly is granted under the pensions act. The minimum is one shilling a week. An income of £50 a year disqualifies from the pension benefits.

Few, if any, destitute persons are nowadays allowed to spend the night in the open. From 1914, when hundreds of homeless Londoners slept nightly on staircases and under arches, the figure has declined to an odd case here and there.

LEADERS TO CONFER ON PROCEDURE WITH BONUS BILL TODAY

Final Decision Expected With Return to Washington of Speaker Gillett, Who Left Florida Last Night.

PLAN TO BRING IT UP MONDAY

Speaker Said to Disfavor Rules Suspension, Advocated by Fordney and Former Service Men in House.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—House leaders hope to reach a final decision today, with the return from Florida of Speaker Gillett, on the question of procedure in calling up the soldiers' bonus bill on the floor. The Speaker, who decided late yesterday to return to Washington today instead of tomorrow, has indicated that he was disposed to rule adversely on a motion to bring up the bonus legislation Monday under a suspension of the rules, as contemplated in the plan of some House leaders.

Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee, who favors the rules suspension program, said that if the Speaker held against it on his return he would proceed with plan to bring the measure up under a special rule next Tuesday if such a rule could be obtained. Speaker Gillett, in discussing the matter before leaving St. Augustine yesterday, was said to have favored the latter plan in expressing his belief that the importance of the bonus bill was such that the House should have time to consider it and entertain amendments.

Upon the outcome of the conference between the Speaker and House leaders depends whether those members who want the bill open to amendment when brought up will be able to secure a conference for a conference of House Republicans to consider the whole question of procedure.

Representative Lineberger of California, a former service man, who yesterday obtained 60 signatures to a petition for such a conference, or 10 more than required under the rules, said the petition should be presented if it was decided to consider the bill under a suspension of the rules.

INDEPENDENCE OF EGYPT CELEBRATED IN MANY CITIES

Former British High Commissioner Albany Addressed Sultan as "Your Majesty."

CAIRO, Egypt, March 17.—The proclamation of the Sultan, Ahmed Fuad Pasha, as King of Egypt yesterday was accompanied by the firing of salvoes of 101 guns in Cairo, Alexandria and Port Said, and of 21 guns in all the other provincial capitals.

Field Marshal Viscount Albany, former British High Commissioner, accompanied by members of his staff, called at the royal palace and greeted King Fuad, whom he addressed as "Your Majesty."

Through Premier Sarwat Pasha the King addressed a letter to "our white nation," in which he said in part: "God has graciously permitted the independence of Egypt to be attained by our hands. We are grateful to God, and hereby announce to the world that from today Egypt enjoys independence and sovereignty."

CLAIMS OF ENGLAND AGAINST MEXICO MAY BE ARBITRATED

Negotiations Toward Such an Agreement
Are Proceeding, Harmsworth Tells Commons.

LONDON, March 17.—Negotiations are proceeding with the Mexican Government for the conclusion of an agreement for the submission to arbitration of all British claims against Mexico. It was announced in the House of Commons last night by Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

HOOVER FAVORS BEGINNING WORK ON BOULDER CANYON DAM AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Recommends That Seven States Affected by Proposed Flood Prevention and Irrigation Project Agree on Water Division.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17.—The Colorado River Commission was to wind up its hearings in Phoenix today and depart for a tour of inspection of the site for the proposed Boulder Canyon dam on the Arizona-Nevada boundary. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce and chairman of the commission, banished all uncertainty as to his attitude toward immediate protection of the Imperial and Yuma valleys from flood dangers, when he declared at a dinner here last night that he was prepared to recommend construction at once of the Boulder Canyon dam. Hoover suggested at the dinner, attended by all the Colorado River commissioners, that an agreement be entered into by the seven states of the Colorado basin and construction of the dam be started at the earliest possible moment.

When engineers of the status of Arthur P. Davis' (United States Reclamation Director) "say that the dam is practicable, and that it will not encroach on the rights of any of the seven states involved, I am prepared to adopt that dam," Secretary Hoover asserted.

Called Site Most Feasible.

The report of Davis describes the Boulder Canyon dam site as the most feasible site for control of the lower Colorado. Based on extensive studies, Davis' report, which is before Congress, estimates that the cost of the dam, with a flow line of 1230 feet, would be about $45,000,000. It would have storage capacity of about 21,000,000 acre feet.

Davis was present at the commission's hearing yesterday and outlined his plan to the commission. He declared there is enough water in the Colorado River to provide for every feasible irrigation project in the seven States of the Colorado basin.

John Hoyt, representing the United States Geological Survey, and Richard E. Sloan, City Attorney of Phoenix, told the commission that agriculture should be given precedence over power in the project.

dence over power in the commission's recommendations to Congress. Sloan consented, at the request of Hoover, to draw up a proposed compact for division of the Colorado's waters.

"Won't Concede a Single Foot." The Arizona lawyer advocated an agreement whereby Arizona would be assured of at least 6,000,000 horsepower, and of water for the irrigation of 2,500,000 acres of land. Arizona would not be willing to concede to Mexico, or even to California, "as much as we love her," he said, "one single foot of water to which we may have any lawful claim, even should we be convinced that it would result in better use of that water."

Hoyt, hydraulic engineer in charge of the division of surface waters, gave what he said was an analysis by a disinterested Government bureau of the problem of utilization of the Colorado's waters. A study, he said, indicates that three distinct problems must be considered—One relating to irrigation in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah, where the head water tributaries of the Colorado contribute more than 90 per cent of the total flow; another relating to power and irrigation in New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada; and a third relating to navigation in California.

Outline for Division.

He asserted it is the belief that all interests will be fully protected by an agreement that at least 65 per cent of the present flow of the river shall reach the canyon district and that no rights for power or irrigation shall be created in or below the canyon that will deprive the states of Colorado, Wyoming and Utah of a right to consume 35 per cent of the present flow above the canyon. He added that this allotment should apply for 50 years.

In discussing the Boulder canyon dam, Director Davis pointed out that it represents 6,000,000 potential kilowatts of electric power and that it is close to Los Angeles, a ready market in the center of a field where there is a demand for power.

20 DIE IN FIGHTING OVER ARREST OF INDIAN AGITATOR

30 Other Natives Wounded
at Nairobi, British East Africa, When Mob Attacks Against Taking of Thuku.

LONDON, March 17.—Twenty natives were killed and 30 wounded at Nairobi, British East Africa, yesterday, in fighting which followed demonstrations over the arrest of the Indian agitator, Thuku, says a Central News dispatch.

Thuku was arrested Wednesday, and trouble immediately followed. About 1000 natives armed with sticks assembled before the police station and demanded his release, but were dispersed by the police force, who used their bayonets.

Early yesterday a strike of houseboys and other native workers was announced and further disturbances occurred in which large numbers from the surrounding district participated. Mobs halted rikshaws and forced all Europeans to alight and walk. The efforts of armed policemen to clear the streets failed.

When the situation became menacing the riot act was read and the demonstrators were exhorted to disperse quietly. Instead, they advanced toward the police palisade, waving flags and shouting. Women were used as shields by the men to delay the police fire.

Meanwhile military forces had arrived. When the mob attempted to rush the palisade, the troops were ordered to fire. Seeing 50 of their number cut down by the bullets, the members of the mob stamped. The demonstration then ceased.

IF 'TIME IS MONEY,' IT IS ONLY SOVIET MONEY IN RUSSIA, DIPLOMAT SAYS

MOSCOW, March 17.

"TIME IS money," "Do it to-day," and other mottoes once popular as wall and desk decorations in American offices and factories, have been translated into Russian and distributed to many bureaus of the Soviet Government, which is trying to out-bureaucratize the United States.

Persons going through many formalities necessary to secure action from some of the bureaus declare, however, that the mottoes have little effect. One official who had to visit 12 Government offices to secure possession of an automobile which had arrived here free from customs duties, said, "If time is money, it evidently is only Soviet money in Russia."

HOOVER ASKED TO RUN AGAINST HIRAM JOHNSON FOR SENATE

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17.—Herbert Hoover has been asked by a California delegation, which met here, to oppose Hiram Johnson in the coming senatorial contest in California. He has not yet refused. The delegation, which included 20 influential Californians, some of them formerly vital parts of the Hearst-Johnson machine, say the Johnson regime is at an end, and Hoover would have an easy victory.

Senator Johnson has been increasingly out of tune with his constituents for some time. Several of his old lieutenants have been stumping the State against his stand on the treaties; and his alliance with the Hearst-Hylan combination has been highly unpopular. His embarrassing relations with the administration have made his path especially thorny. He has been unable to "deliver the goods."

Hoover departs for California today on a 10-day tour to the Oregon line, Mexican border to the Oregon line.

HONDURAS BOUNDARY LINE QUESTION TO BE SETTLED

MONTREY, Mexico.—An agreement has been reached between the British and Mexican Governments, that the uncertainty that has long existed as to the rightful boundary between the Territory of Quintana Roo and the British colony of Belize, or British Honduras as it is commonly called, is to be done away with.

The British Government has expressed its willingness to accept the survey of the boundary which is to be made by a commission appointed for the purpose by the Mexican Government. Monuments will be erected to mark the line that separates the two countries.

FORD SAYS SHOALS MUST BE KEPT FREE FROM WALL STREET

Manufacturer Declares He Will Consecrate Life to Keeping Big Interests Away From Project.

"HERITAGE FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE"

Freedom of Industry and Cheap Power for All Lie in Alabama Enterprise, He Asserts.

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—Henry Ford will use every resource and influence at his command to keep the hands of Wall Street off Muscle Shoals. In an interview today he said he had "consecrated" himself to this principle.

An intimation had come to Ford that due to his long silence on the subject of Muscle Shoals, the people of the South were beginning to believe he had lost interest in the project.

In answer, he said to newspaper men: "You can tell the people that Wall Street will have no part, either in the financing or the operation of Muscle Shoals—not if I can help it. If it's the last thing I do in this world I'll exert every resource and influence at my command to keep the hands of Wall Street off Muscle Shoals and perpetuate it as a great heritage for the American people, living example of what they can do if they will safeguard the country's water power and develop it."

Took Over Motor Company.

A few weeks ago we took over the Lincoln Motor Co., saying that we would supply the public with cars from Wall Street. I have been very busy helping reorganize it. But my representatives have been in touch with the Muscle Shoals situation every minute and, through them, I've known everything that has gone on. And all I have to say, at present, is this: "In Muscle Shoals lies the freedom of American industry. During the recent war the country turned its eyes to Europe for the world from militarism, militarism, fostered by an international money-power. Now, in the same way, we are going to fight to the last ditch to free American industry and transportation from the same money power. We will do it by creating cheap power and cheap fertilizer at Muscle Shoals for the American industrialist and the American farmer."

"If the American people can once catch the idea of what water-power means—how it can be put to service in a thousand ways, cutting the costs of industrial power to a minimum and thus, through the production of living for all the people at greatly reduced cost—they will never again submit to the proposition that to get power they must pay tribute to Wall Street."

Muscle Shoals an Example.

"All they need to catch the idea is to see an example. A potential example lies at Muscle Shoals. In a sense the destiny of the American people lies there on the Tennessee River. Who ever controls a nation's power controls that nation's people because without power, industry and transportation cannot turn a wheel. Today America's power is dependent on coal and the great mass of the country's coal beds are owned and operated by the money powers centered in Wall Street. With this situation, it would be a crime unspeakable to let Wall Street also strangle the possibilities of Muscle Shoals. For were Muscle Shoals once developed along unselfish lines it would work so splendidly and so simply that, in no time hundreds of other additional water-power developments would spring up all over the country and the days of American industry paying tribute to Wall Street would be gone forever."

Would Hurry Legislation.

"If the legislation regarding Muscle Shoals could be hurried along so that work down there could be started this spring, it would act as a tremendous influence to start all industry. Think of the men it would employ—of the relief of the nation's unemployment problem. Work should be going forward down there all this spring and summer, for if it is not begun soon, when the river is low, a great part of the work of completing dam No. 2 and building dam No. 3 entire, will have to go over till the summer of 1923. It would be tragic to hold off employment of so many thousands of men for another year when the need of work is so great."

"Do you think Congress will leave Muscle Shoals to you?" Ford was asked.

"All I've got to say on that point," he answered, "is that I have a great faith in the American people and I trust that they will not stand silent and let Wall Street put anything over on their representatives at Washington. I'm not worrying a bit," and he smiled broadly.

BONUS PLAN WOULD HIT SMALL TOWN BANKS HARDEST

That's the View of the Treasury Department, Which Points Out Disadvantages of Scheme.

DIFFICULTIES FOR COUNTRY BANKERS

Heavy Burden After Next Three Years on Government, With Increased Taxation as Probable Only Way Out.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1922.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Small town and country banks will be hit hardest if the Fordney bonus plan ever goes into effect, in the opinion of high officials of the Treasury Department. They believe that the city banks, which ordinarily do not make small loans, or even take small deposits, will not bother with the requests that the adjusted compensation certificates be exchanged for cash. The large banks also are in a strong position to refuse because there is no legal compulsion upon them to honor the certificates. The small banks, however, will not be able as readily to decline to lend money because, in small communities, the relation between the borrower and the banks is bound to be so intimate that a refusal might prove embarrassing. This means that the country banks will have to dig down into their capital and reserves to meet the loans and while they can appeal to larger banks to help them out, this process is by no means a safe one to count upon. A provision has been inserted in the Fordney bill whereby the banks must discount the certificates at any bank except Federal Reserve banks.

Disadvantages Listed.

Inasmuch as Chairman Fordney has listed the advantages of the new measure which he has drawn, treasury officials are listing the disadvantages of the bill in the form proposed. These disadvantages are:

1. The country banks and the banks in agricultural districts which are already straining to the utmost to meet the demands for loans by farmers, and are already overloaded with loans and justly so. The special money to cash the certificates of the service men.

2. The country banks which do have the money will have that much less to lend for productive purposes.

3. The increase of at least $500,000,000 in credits is an inflation which might be justified if the money were to be employed in financing agricultural and manufacturing questions of miners' wages, but which prove mere expansion of credit from an economic viewpoint.

Indirect Government Credit.

4. The whole transaction is an indirect Government credit, and weakens the Government's position by about $4,000,000,000, for Chairman Fordney now admits that the burden by 1943 will amount to that much. An addition of more than $4,000,000,000 to a war debt of $22,000,000,000 is likely to depress the value of Government securities as a whole.

5. The Treasury Department automatically will have to redeem the certificates held by the banks, and also will be required to pay the service men the remaining sum due. This means that to get cash quickly, the defaulting process will be resorted to. It will not be like defaulting on an ordinary loan, but will merely mean cashing in advance a certificate which is worth, with interest, a specified sum depending upon the number of days a soldier or sailor served in the war.

While it is true that those who do not default will get a slightly increased amount in 1943, when the certificates finally become due, Treasury officials expect that the majority of the servicemen will prefer to cash their certificates at the banks while the banks in turn will look to the Treasury to redeem within three years.

There's the whole criticism in a nutshell—the Treasury considers the Fordney plan to be disadvantageous to the banks during the next three years and that on the Government itself. Instead of four billions of dollars in 20 years, the experts estimate that a large part of that amount would be added to the public debt in the next three years to meet the certificates that will be presented by the banks to the Government for redemption. In that event the Treasury believes increased taxation would be the only way out.

Michael Collins' St. Patrick's Day Message to the American People

By Michael Collins.

MICHAEL COLLINS, head of the Irish provisional Government, yesterday sent to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World the following message for the American people.

DUBLIN, March 16.—The Irish people, now engaged in taking control of their own destinies, on this St. Patrick's Day send greeting to America. With these greetings they convey the Irish nation's gratitude for the generous support given by America through the long years of its struggle for freedom.

We feel that in the work of rebuilding our nation the American people will extend to us the same sympathy they gave to Ireland throughout the period when our country's people were making a heroic struggle and sacrifice to save it from national destruction.

Today the fruits of that struggle and sacrifice are within our grasp. English domination, which for centuries had a stranglehold on our national life, is at an end. The military machinery which imposed that domination is leaving our shores. The English uniform, which, throughout the land, has been an outward badge of advertisement of our national servitude, is disappearing, and the Irish uniform of the Irish army is everywhere taking its place.

Our soldiers are occupying the British military posts and stations, declaring by their presence that the fruits of freedom are in our hands.

By the treaty signed in London last December, Ireland is free to rebuild and reshape its national life and institutions in accord with Irish will and Irish ideals. For that blessed liberty we know how much we owe to America. Our nation, never ungrateful, is unlikely to forget in its new-found prosperity the help and friendship which America so generously gave during the time of adversity. Through all the weary years of struggle and terror Ireland was strengthened to resist all force by its faith in the great ideals of freedom sustained by the unflinching sympathy and practical support of America.

Fortified in labor by the knowledge of practical interest and sympathy of America, the Irish people send their St. Patrick's greetings to the American people with a note of rejoicing long absent from the salutations of the day. We rejoice in the freedom we have begun to feel, and we know that America rejoices with us.

PLAN TO GIVE PUBLIC FACTS ABOUT STRIKES FORBIDDEN BY GRIFFITH

Secretary Davis Begins With Threatened Mine Walkout in Working Out Procedure.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A plan which the Government is working out to supply the public with quick and reliable information when strikes threaten industry was described here yesterday by Secretary of Labor Davis.

It consists of maintaining specialists trained in each of 32 "key" industries in the nation, he said, thus enabling the Government to have on hand a complete file of accurate information and data concerning conditions in any given line.

"The Government, under the proposed plan," he said, "at the beginning of a labor difficulty could give out an official statement which would form the basis for an accurate and just opinion. The specialist would live with an industry year in and year out, and would be familiar with every one of its phases and its details."

Secretary Davis said that the Government was conducting an investigation in 30 cities in coal mine areas to determine cost of living and other conditions to obtain definite data affecting questions of miners' wages.

"At the present time," he continued, "there are some 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 tons of bituminous coal above ground. This quantity of coal, with the numerous mines operating, should be sufficient to supply the country's needs for from three to four months."

The miners' officers were in his office two days ago, he said, and agreed to meet with the Government. "But you know this is a dark industry," he added. "They work in the dark mines and their product is dark. There are many dark secrets in this industry on both sides. The public, however, is entitled to know the facts about all industries, and it is a great satisfaction to know that we are to get the money from Congress to develop this information service."

Allen Enrollment Measure.

Davis urged support of the Government's alien enrollment measure, declaring that a great deal of "boot-legging with aliens from Cuba, Mexico and South America into the United States" had developed. Many aliens from countries whose quotas have been completed and are unable to enter here go to Cuba, Mexico or South America, he said, and after a short residence in those countries, obtain passports and get by in that way.

He estimated that more than 30,000 Chinese, 40,000 Mexicans and many Japanese are illegally in the United States, and that about 30,000 aliens are now in Cuba waiting for a chance to get in.

ENTENTE CONSIDERING LOAN

LONDON, March 17.—A Berlin dispatch to the London Times says that Dr. Andreas Harnack, the German Minister of Finance, has informed the Reichstag that the Entente Finance Ministers are considering a great international loan for partial liquidation of Germany's reparations debts.

It would be necessary, he said, to examine the question of how far an international loan could be associated with the German compulsory loan without affecting the character of the latter.

Senator France Charges
There Is Active Propaganda in Favor of Ratification of Pacific Pact.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Charles Francis Chandler, of a "paid propaganda" to influence action on the four-Power Pacific treaty were exchanged across the Senate chamber today during a flurry of debate over the "no alliance" reservation proposed by the Foreign Relations Committee.

In the midst of a speech replying to criticisms that the committee reservation negatives the treaty, Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio, declared there was "a propaganda being carried on in this country to convince the people that this treaty is an alliance and that if it is ratified the independence of the United States is gone."

"Propaganda for Treaty."

"I wish the Senator would put into the record," interrupted Senator France, Republican of Maryland, "the names of any of those who are paying for such a propaganda, and perhaps he knows who is paying for the propaganda for ratification of the treaty. I know that millions of dollars must be paid out to carry on that propaganda. I have received almost enough of it to have convinced me that these treaties are all right if I didn't know something about them."

Senator Willis replied that he did not know who was responsible for any "propaganda" on either side.

Senator Pomeroy, Democrat of Ohio, in turn asked Senator France for "some specific information as to just one dollar" used to create public opinion for the treaties, and the Maryland Senator replied that he had "arisen to ask for information, not to give it."

The argument of Senator Willis was directed against a speech recently made in the Senate by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri, attacking the "no alliance" reservation as a "ridiculous absurdity."

The Missouri Senator's statement that the treaty was in fact "an alliance to confer" had embarrassed the friends of ratification. Willis said, and had resulted in a flood of letters and telegrams of protest.

"Senator Nelson, Republican of Minnesota, suggested that, on that theory, an agreement between two nations to 'circulate the Bible in China' would be 'an alliance for that purpose.'"

To "Straighten Out" Spencer.

"So far as reservations are concerned," continued Senator Nelson, "I have heard of pious people who have been so extremely careful that before they would indorse the Lord's prayer they would want some reservations."

It was argued by Senator Willis that the treaty provided for no alliance and needed no reservations. He was attempting, he said, merely to "straighten out" Senator Spencer and relieve the treaty's friends of the embarrassment caused by the Missouri Senator's speech.

For more than three hours, in a Senate chamber which most of the time was all but deserted, Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, yesterday assailed both the four-Power and naval treaties, which he said would fit together to put the United States in a position of "helplessness" in the Pacific. He charged that the facts underlying the five-five-three naval settlement had been misrepresented, and put into the record figures of his own design to show that superiority of speed, armament and auxiliary craft would greatly increase the relative strength of the British and Japanese navies.

Referring to the four-Power treaty, the Missouri Senator asked whether the recently enacted law extending American coastwise shipping regulations to various groups of American islands might not become the subject of a "conference" in which Great Britain, Japan and France would vote against American interests.

"Where Are the Gallies 19?"

"Charging that President Harding had 'broken faith' with those who supported him at the polls in 1920, Senator Reed declared it was only because the four-Power treaty came from a Republican executive that it had the support of Republican irreconcilables of the Versailles treaty fight."

"As I stand and look at the empty seats on that side of the chamber," he said, "I wonder what has become of the gallant 18—the irreconcilables—the men who swore they never would put this country into an alliance. They have turned their backs, they listen not to this debate, they stand with silent lips and are ashamed."

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS OWE RESCUE TO MATCH

Smoke From Fire Built by Survivors Attracts Rescuing Crafts.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 23 (By Mail).—A lone match, saved carefully in a tin can to prevent it from becoming wet, was the means that brought about the rescue of four of the five members of the Japanese fishing vessel Ebisu Maru No. 1, after they had been marooned 15 days on a wind and storm swept coral reef in the South Seas, with no shelter, few clothes and little food or water, according to the story they told when they were brought back to Honolulu aboard the Ebisu Maru No. 2, which had been sent to rescue them. The fifth member of the crew, Miyasaki, the engineer, was washed away and drowned. His body was not recovered.

The fishing craft left here last year for Necker Island, considerably south of Honolulu, and after unsuccessful casts sailed farther south on Jan. 18. Ten days later, in a heavy storm, she struck a coral reef off Sand Island, near French Frigate Shoals. Under the battering of the heavy seas the sampans broke up almost immediately.

A rude raft was formed from the timbers and Capt. J. Yonemoku, with a rope around his waist, swam for a bar some distance away. He made the small piece of land and succeeded in pulling the raft after him. Miyasaki was lost at this time.

For the next 15 days the four men subsisted on birds they killed and a little fresh water. With their lone match they kindled a fire from pieces of driftwood. This thin line of smoke was sighted by the Ebisu Maru No. 2, the rescuing vessel, which proceeded to the bar and took the four survivors aboard. A large part of the Japanese colony here was at the dock to greet the survivors when they landed from the Ebisu Maru No. 2.

SAYS HAWAII HAS DEVELOPED
INTER-RACIAL GOOD FEELING

By the Associated Press.

VERONE, Pa., March 17.—Hawaii is a land of good will, where people of differing races mingle, and where even Japanese, Koreans and Chinese forget their national differences. This was the assertion of Dr. Charles W. Guthrie of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address here last night before the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Conference. Dr. Guthrie has just returned from the Hawaiian Methodist mission.

"To an extent that perhaps is not expressed in just the same way anywhere else in the world, where such a mixture of races is to be found," said the speaker, "there is to be seen in Hawaii the finest kind of racial loyalty, combined with inter-racial good will, with all racial antipathies eliminated. It was not unusual to see Japanese, Chinese and Koreans in the enjoyment of the most delightful fellowship imaginable. Hawaii has brought this to the finest expression of any point on the planet, so far as heard from."

"The relationship among the churches in Hawaii appears most fraternal. On my arrival I was invited to preach in St. Andrew's Cathedral (Protestant Episcopal). A great congregation crowded the edifice, and the preacher received courtesies as numerous and as fine in spirit as if he had discoursed to a crowd of Methodist folk."

NEBRO HOLDUP MAN BACKS PAST POLICEMAN—ALMOST ESCAPES

Patrolman After Parley With Restaurant Man, Gives Chase, Shoots and Captures Fugitive.

As Policeman Shepack stepped into the Lindell Restaurant, 208 North Grand avenue, at 10 o'clock last night, a tall negro was just backing out the door.

"That's sure a tall boy, eh?" he remarked to the night manager, George Kogler.

"Till say so," replied the manager. "He just got through holding me up for $21 out of the register."

The policeman went outside. The negro was just turning east into an alley between Pine street and Lindell avenue. In the chase Shepack fired several shots before overhauling the negro in the rear of a battery service station in the rear of 8400 Lindell avenue.

At the Laclede Avenue Station the negro gave his name as Luther L. Dodson, 21 years old, and said he lived at 2605 Lawton avenue. In the room of his shirt, the policeman reported, the $21 described was found.

PRINCESS FATIMA TO TRY TO RECOVER DIAMOND

Sultana, Forsaken by Lawyer, Denied Shelter by Landlady, Cancels Trip to Bombay.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Princess Fatima, Sultana of Kabul in Afghanistan, forsaken by her lawyer, bereft of her 44-karat diamond, and denied further shelter by her unpaid landlady, stepped into a taxicab yesterday to drive to the steamer City of Lahore and embark with her three young princelings for a voyage to Bombay in a suite furnished by the British Government—but she never reached the pier.

Last night she was secluded somewhere, and those who knew how her fortune of a few months ago had ebbed away doubted if her purse held the cost of bed and board. It was said that she had decided to stay and try to recover her big diamond held by Uncle Sam.

British Consul Through.

The City of Lahore is out on the Atlantic today. The British Consul-General assured those who inquired that he and the empress he represented had no further interest in the doings of the once wealthy lady who dazzled Broadway last summer with her nose jewel, and a little later visited the White House to be ushered into the presence of the President of the United States with all the dignity due a royal guest.

The United States Government is holding tight to the 44-karat diamond that the Princess naively brought into America without paying duty and then tried to sell. Paul Kotch, the lawyer who talked for the Princess and fought for her when those whose bills she had not paid went to the courtroom, announced that he was through. Mrs. Ida M. Willis, in whose lodgings the Princess has remained since last November, said Fatima could never again lay her head upon her bed or eat a meal at her table. For a while the Princess paid her bills at the boarding house, and then for many weeks she overlooked that practice, the landlady said. Three weeks ago the British Consul-General took up the burden and continued it until after the breakfast this morning.

Luggage Released by Hotels.

Kotch went around to the Waldorf-Astoria, where the Princess lived in fine style her first thrilling weeks in the metropolis, and persuaded the management that, inasmuch as the Princess had meant well and was going to get out of the country, it would be a good, gracious gesture to release her luggage. The heart of the management softened and the luggage was released, although the Princess still owes the hotel money.

The Narragansett Hotel, where the Princess also owed money, also released what luggage it had retained.

Thief Takes Gems Valued at $12,500.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A porch climber stole a costly beaded bag and its contents of jewels valued at $12,500 from Mrs. Joseph L. Rhinock's home at Bonnie Crest, New Rochelle, at the dinner hour Wednesday.

BARNARD WILLIS TESTIFIES HE DRANK WHEN WIFE 'CLOUDED UP'

Taking of testimony in the divorce suit of Mrs. Mary Lee Dixon Willis, 7250 Westmoreland place, University City, against Barnard Willis, 6425 Cecil avenue, assistant secretary of the George D. Barnard Stationery Co., was resumed today at Clayton.

Mrs. Willis has testified that her husband was inconsiderate, cruel and addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. She has given testimony of highball parties at their home and at other places, at which she said her husband drank to excess, and has testified that he drove her mother from their home.

Willis yesterday denied he had driven his wife's mother away or that he had fallen in the bathroom while intoxicated and cut his head, as his wife had testified, but admitted that he was fond of highballs. Willis said he was not given to drinking except when his wife would "cloud up" and remain silent for days. He said their estrangement was intensified by his mother-in-law, who essayed to "run things" at their home, such as directing the servants and using his automobile.

Laura Smith, a maid in the Willis home, testified that previously to November, 1920, Mr. and Mrs. Willis had been the "lovingest couple" she ever saw, and that since that date Willis would drink when Mrs. Willis had "spells" of reticence.

REWARD FOR SLAYER OF CIRCUS MAN IS TO BE ASKED FOR

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 17.—The Board of Freeholders of Burlington County will be asked today by Prosecutor Kelsey to offer a reward for the apprehension of the slayer of John Theodore Brunen, circus proprietor, who was shot and killed at his home, last Friday night. Kelsey said he also probably would ask Gov. Edwards to have the State offer a reward unless the slayer is captured soon.

Carl Ward, a ballyhoo man, formerly employed in the circus owned by Brunen, who was questioned last night by County Detective Ellis Parker, was unable to throw any light on the case, Parker said.

ENTERTAINING PROGRAM GIVEN BY MISSOURI U. GLEE CLUB

The University of Missouri Glee and Mandolin Clubs last night gave a concert at Moolah Temple under the auspices of the St. Louis alumni of the university, before a large audience made up chiefly of alumni and high school seniors, who attended as guests of the association.

The singing organization seemed to lack the volume and ease exhibited by some of the clubs of former years, but delivered an entertaining program of generous dimensions with several extras. Bruno Huhn's "Invictus" and Reinold Werren's "Cavalier's Song" were among the best selections, and a comic skit called "Six Boys From Uptown" was much applauded. The soloists were

Richard E. McCullen, bass, and Ben S. Symon, tenor.

The mandolin club's selections were popular airs, including several from "The Ninth Decade," a musical comedy written and produced this year by students of the university.

The concert, which was followed by dancing, completed the club's concert tour of the State.

STILL SAID TO EXIST IN BELLE STARR GORGE

Canyon Where Woman Outlaw Is Buried Declared to Harbor Big Moonshine Plant.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EUFAULA, Ok.,—Belle Starr canyon, that narrow gorge lying between the little town of Porum and the Canadian River, famous as a rendezvous for outlaws in the early days of the Indian Territory, and named after the notorious woman desperado whose adventures were the sensation of this section for a score of years, is now the protecting wilderness for the biggest moonshine still known to be in operation in Eastern Oklahoma.

Still retaining its original picturesque and charm of a wilderness, nestled between two rocky peaks overlooking the Canadian bottoms and only accessible by trail, the mountain fastness furnishes a natural screen for the whisky ring that is said to be shipping out moonshine in wholesale quantities.

Almost as strange as the tales told about Belle Starr and her nifty achievements are the stories that are now being told about the moonshine plant that operates behind the barrier of rough shrubbery so plentiful in the neighborhood where the celebrated woman outlaw lived most of her life and was buried.

Those who claim to know the location of the distillery say it is not located very far from the grave of Belle Starr, which is still marked by a crude flagstone, and with a still more crude bell and star cut upon its face to identify the last resting place of the woman bandit.

Not far from the still is the cabin that Belle Starr built in the early '80s, with the avowed purpose of leading a reformed life, a purpose that went astray when her former associates in crime found her retreat and insisted upon making it their rendezvous while hiding from the officers.

It is 32 years since an assassin's bullet, fired into her back, ended the career of Belle Starr. There always been more or less mystery as to who killed her, but suspicion was strongly fastened on an outlaw from Florida, who was later slain, following his escape from the penitentiary at Little Rock, Ark.

FOUR WOMEN ON JURY TO HEAR THIRD TRIAL OF ARBUCKLE Woman Juror Tells of Being "Approached"—Body Locked Up Over St. Patrick's Day.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—The jury in the Roscoe Arbuckle case was sworn in yesterday. The film comedian is being tried a third time on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress. Four women are on the completed jury. Judge Landerback ordered the jury locked up for the period of the trial and the male jurors were placed under guard of two Deputy Sheriffs. A motion was in charge of the women jurors.

The jury contains a publisher, a broker, a retired liquor dealer, a banker, housewives and a business woman. Two alternates will be chosen at the start of the Saturday session. The judge having ordered a recess over Friday in observance of St. Patrick's day.

Miss May C. Sharon, a prospective juror, under examination yesterday, said she had been approached regarding her convictions in the case since she had become a member of the panel. She said that several days ago, a woman, representing herself to be a member of the Women's Protective League, had telephoned her and asked her opinion regarding Arbuckle's guilt or innocence. She said she replied: "If he is guilty, they are all guilty."

Miss Sharon explained that her questioner did not give her name, but appeared anxious to keep up the conversation, questioning the opinion that the trial of the comedian was costing the people of San Francisco a lot of money. Miss Sharon remained on the jury.

SHIP LINE PLANS TO RESUME SERVICE TO AUSTRALIA
German-Australian Steamship Co. Awaits Removal of Barriers Against Trade With Germany.

By the Associated Press.
SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 19.—The German-Australian steamship Co. proposes to resume its service to Australia as soon as the prohibition of trade with Germany is removed. It was learned today.

The company's steamers were a familiar sight in Australian ports before the war and carried a large share of the freight to Continental and Mediterranean ports. Many German-Australian liners were captured during the war and now ply under the British flag and in the British merchant marine.

In conjunction with the North German Lloyd, the German-Australian firm intends to establish a monthly cargo service to Australia by agreement with the Holt Line. Details of the arrangements have not yet reached Australia. The company will resume its South African service at the same time.

Electrocuted for Slaying Niece.
By the Associated Press.
MCALESTER, Ok., March 27.—Steve Sabo, 59, a miner, was electrocuted at the State penitentiary here early today for the slaying last September of his 13-year-old niece, Sophia Sabo, at Colgate, Ok. Sabo protested his innocence to the last. The widow and three children in Hungary survive. He was convicted of having stabbed his niece to death after criminally attacking her.

If you're free from constipation show this to some sufferer!

One of the greatest benefits to humanity that has been made available to every man, woman and child in America is Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Kellogg's Bran will relieve constipation permanently if it is eaten regularly. If people of this nation generally would eat Kellogg's Bran nine-tenths of all sickness would be eliminated.

Physicians endorse Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, for constipation because constipation is naturally relieved through proper food. We guarantee Kellogg's Bran will relieve constipation if at least two table-spoons are eaten daily. We advise as much as necessary for chronic cases.

Kellogg's Bran acts as a sweeter, cleansing and purifying. But it is not

"remedy"; rather a nature food! Unlike pills and cathartics, which are not only irritating to the delicate intestinal tract, and afford but temporary relief at best—bran is not habit-forming. Effects of pills and cathartics wear off and it is necessary for the sufferer to find some new and more violent bowel-agitator. Kellogg's Bran never ceases its regular work.

Kellogg's Bran at the same time will clear a pimply complexion and sweeten the breath. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is one of the most delicious cereals you ever ate. Its nut-like flavor is delightful. Or sprinkle it on your favorite cereal and use it in various foods such as bran bread, muffins, pancakes, gravies, etc. Recipes on package. Get it at your grocer's.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS FORMING BALL LEAGUE AT PHILADELPHIA

"Modern Woman Is the Athletic One," Says Supervisor Back of Movement.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—A baseball league is being organized among the high school girls of this city. In announcing the plans for the organization Miss Janet B. Walter, supervisor of the athletic activities of the high school girls, today said that a regular schedule of inter-school games would be arranged.
She predicted that in the near future hockey and basketball leagues also would be formed at the girls' high schools.
"Formation of these leagues," said Miss Walter, "marks a turning point in the attitude of the girls towards athletics. Formerly the girls thought of athletics in terms of sym-nastic exercises. Now they feel that the modern woman is the athletic one, and their enthusiasm is such that they are eager to enter all sports."

ARKANSAS WANTS BIG SLICE OF TEXAS

Asks for Right to Sue for Oil Fields and Several Big Cities.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
AUSTIN, Tex.—Little importance is attached by the State of Texas to the efforts of the State of Arkansas in laying claims to probably one-fourth of the present area of this State, including the oil fields in North and Northwest Texas, according to Attorney-General Keeling. These efforts were made a few days ago when the State of Arkansas filed a motion in the Supreme Court of the United States to intervene in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary suit now pending in that court. The State of Arkansas in its motion insisted that it is only entitled to the bed of Red River which is involved in the boundary suit, but also to that part of the State of Texas lying between the Louisiana boundary and the 100th degree of longitude and north of the thirty-second parallel. This claim is based by Arkansas on the act of admission to the Union. The Supreme Court is yet to decide whether it will permit Arkansas to file its plea of intervention.

Keeling said he did not believe the Supreme Court would permit Arkansas to intervene in this case, as in his opinion, the claim of that State is not tenable. In the event, however, the court permits the filing of the plea of intervention, and the State of Texas is called upon to file an answer, Keeling stated he would file a claim that Miller County, Ark., in which is situated the city of Texarkana, is a part of the domain of Texas. The records have also disclosed, Keeling added, that Miller County is included as a part of Texas.

MISSOURI FERTILIZER QUALITY BETTER IN LAST FIVE YEARS

State Experimental Station Reports on Tests Made on 30 Fields Widely Separated.
COLUMBIA, Mo., March 17.—There has been a distinct improvement in the quality of commercial fertilizers in Missouri during the last five years, says a report of F. B. Mumford, head of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Missouri.

"Since 1905 the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station has been conducting investigations of 80 soil and crop experiment fields located in widely separated sections of Missouri," the report says. "On practically every one of these fields the intelligent application of fertilizers has yielded a profit."

The experiment station investigators have shown that increased profits can be secured by fertilizing during a four-year rotation have averaged from limestone 75 per cent, bone meal 182 per cent, acid phosphate 288 per cent, potash 33 per cent, and manure 117 per cent.

Backache! Kidneys Fail

Failure of the kidneys to promptly and thoroughly act brings on a train of ill and continued neglect results frequently in Bright's Disease, Gravel, Rheumatism, and Chronic Nephritis. Also a very serious nerve disorder often follows. Backache, headache, dizziness, dry skin, hot flashes, and chills, should cause you to suspect the kidneys. Look for these symptoms: pressure and pain in back, especially in the lower back; swelling of feet and ankles; accompanied by night fever, chills, headache and rheumatic twinges.

Balmwort is the only medicine that begins right away to ease Balmwort tablets, and the quick relief will assure you that they are true kidney medicine.

One Year of Republican Rule

When a "rock-ribbed" Republican organ, reviewing the record of the first year since its party returned to power in all branches of the Government, avers that "this Congress is the worst we have had for twenty years," and asks despairingly "of what avail is a wise President and a strong Cabinet if it is their misfortune to be blocked in many directions by a recalcitrant Congress?" its criticism arrests attention. "Congress," the Boston Transcript continues, "is the liability of the Republican party today, the President and his Cabinet its great asset." The Republican Manchester Union declares that "it is daily becoming more apparent that President Harding, much as he may dislike it, must take down from the wall the Big Stick which, since the Fourth of March, one year ago, has been accumulating dust, and begin to brandish it over the head of Congress, if so palpably headless a body may be said to have a head." Congress, with its overwhelming majorities in both Houses, this New Hampshire paper goes on to say, "gummed up the tax revision program," "man-handled the whole tariff revision question," and made a "nauseating spectacle" of itself in its handling of the bonus problem.

The general tendency of the American Press is to blame Congress rather than the President for any disappointment that the year has brought forth.

The Democratic characterization of the present Congress as "a do-nothing Congress" was answered by Senator Lodge with the statement that, "I know I am speaking within bounds when I say that no Congress in time of peace has ever shown such an amount of important, effective, and remedial legislation as has been enacted by the present Congress since it has been in session." Continuing, he said, "More was done by the Conference for the world's peace in twelve weeks than has been done anywhere else in twice as many years."

THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, March 18th, publishes as its leading article a summary of newspaper opinion throughout the country upon the record of the first year of Republican administration. The articles give all angles of thought upon the subject.

KROGER'S

ROBBER FIRES AT WOMAN, DESTROYS TELEPHONES
Pharmacy, in Heart of Downtown East St. Louis District, Held Up for $150.
After rifling the cash register of the pharmacy, the robber fired a shot at the proprietor of the store when she attempted to telephone for aid and pulling down the telephone from the wall, a robber made his escape from the drug store of Francis P. Skye, 501 Missouri avenue, in the heart of the downtown district of East St. Louis, last night at 11 o'clock.

Skye and his wife were alone in the store when a young man entered and asked for a box of candy. When Skye returned from the candy case, the robber drew a revolver and ordered him to put his hands up. Mrs. Skye, who was on the opposite side of the store, ran to the telephone in the rear. The robber ordered her away and at the same time fired at her. The shot went wild. He then tore the telephone from the wall and also jerked another telephone from the front wall.

After taking about $150 from the cash register, he fled north on Fifth street.

WORTH $100,000 FOUR YEARS AGO NOW PAUPER Woman, 83, Spent Fortune in Defending Self Against Charge of Murdering Daughter.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DETROIT, Mich.—The doors of the Van Buren County Poorhouse have opened to receive Mrs. Sarah Tabor, 83 years old, who, four years ago, was said to have been worth more than $100,000.
The entire amount is said to have been spent by Mrs. Tabor in defending herself against the charge of murdering her daughter, Maude Tabor Virgo.
The daughter died four years ago as a result of an illegal operation and her body was found in a trunk in the basement of the Tabor home in Lawton, Mich. Previous to the finding of the body Mrs. Tabor disappeared. It was not known at that time that her daughter had been married to Joseph C. Virgo, real estate broker of South Bend, Ind. When this was learned he was arrested in connection with his wife's death, but was released when Mrs. Tabor was arrested in California after a nation-wide search.
The mother was brought back to Lawton to face the charge of murdering her daughter. She told conflicting stories to two different juries, both disagreeing without rendering a verdict. Mrs. Tabor's health broke down in January, 1931, and the Court dismissed the case.

Provides for Vehicles Stops at All Intersections—Thoroughfares Are Named in Measure.
The Legislative Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday voted to report out favorably a bill requiring all vehicles to come to a stop before crossing any thoroughfare designated as a boulevard by ordinance. The bill exempts fire department apparatus, ambulances and repair trucks for public service corporations.
The bill provides that the following thoroughfares be designated as boulevards in order to specify where vehicles must come to a stop:
Washington avenue west of Jefferson; Locust street, west of Jefferson; Fine street, west of Jefferson; Lexington avenue, Twelfth street, from Washington avenue to Market street; Grand avenue, King's highway and Lindell boulevard.
Thoroughfares heretofore known as boulevards are changed as follows: Flora boulevard to Flora place; Forsythe boulevard to Forsythe avenue; Kingsbury boulevard to Kingsbury avenue; Lexington boulevard to Lexington avenue; Longfellow boulevard to Longfellow place; Page boulevard to Page avenue; Thurman boulevard to Thurman avenue; Waverly boulevard to Waverly avenue; Wydown boulevard to Wydown avenue; Garcesche boulevard to Garcesche avenue.
A bill requiring all drivers of motor vehicles to be licensed was referred by the committee to the City Counselor for an opinion on its legality.

LEADING THEATER INTERESTS PLAN CENTRAL MANAGEMENT Elimination of Needless Building of New Theaters Said to Be Planned.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 17.—A number of leading theaters and theatrical productions of the United States will be merged under one centralized management, according to the Chicago Herald and Examiner, which today printed what it termed plans for a $100,000,000 combine.
According to the newspaper, A. L. Erlanger and J. J. and Lee Shubert, who negotiated a merger of their respective interests here last week, are negotiating with Charles B. Dillingham, A. H. Woods, Florence Ziegfeld, Sam Harris, George M. Cohan, the Selwyns and others to join them. The proposed merger, it was said, specifically aims at elimination of needless building of new theaters, overlapping of existing ones and types of attractions simultaneously. The theaters would be booked under centralized management to avoid such conflicts and resultant heavy losses.
Smaller cities would be allowed one high-class theater, it was stated.

ST. LOUISAN PRAISES RECORD OF THIRTY-FIFTH DIVISION
Col. Parker, Chief of Staff of Seventh Reserve Army Corps, Speaks in Kansas City.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 17.—Declaring that he was proud of its record, Col. John Henry Parker of St. Louis, Chief of Staff of the Seventh Reserve Army Corps, now being organized, asserted in an address here last night that the Thirty-fifth Division (Missouri and Kansas), broke up seven German divisions during the five days' fighting in the Argonne Forest according to statements made by a German officer at the conclusion of the action.
He paid high tribute to the valor of the men of the Thirty-fifth and said he would be glad to have the reorganized division become a part of the Seventh Reserve Corps. Col. Parker commanded a New England infantry regiment during the war.

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It can't hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone. Ask any good druggist for a jar of Bowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Bowles on each package.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub On Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn to "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief. Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which restores circulation promptly and helps break up the cold. As effective as the money old mustard plaster, it does the work without the mustard plaster's sting and blister. During the "Flu" epidemic a few years ago Musterole was used in our training camps. The Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to France for our soldiers overseas. Doctors have been recommending it to their patients for years for colds, aches and pains.

Just rub it on with your finger tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. Your druggist has Musterole; 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes; hospital size $3.

Money of No Value

"Life had no pleasure for me. Although I had plenty of money it was of no value as my stomach almost constantly distressed me. I lost faith in all doctors and medicine. Talking with my druggist about my case, he advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy. I am now enjoying life again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will cleanse the system and restore health. Sold by all druggists. Write to: Druggists, 1000 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo. (3 stars). Druggists: Johnson Bros. Many a woman is allowing the signs of old age creep into her system, robbing her face and figure of youthful beauty and charm simply because she fails to get enough strength-building nourishment from her food. As a result, the time of life when she should be in her prime, at her very best, the first tell-tale evidence of departing youth appears. Her cheeks sunken, her tissues of her body become soft and flabby, her bones, increase nerve force and energy. If such women would get some good, firm, solid flesh on their proper muscle and bone, and tissue-making elements by taking MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS with each meal they might easily fill out the hollows, smooth out the wrinkles, round out the figure to graceful proportions, build up health and look years younger. MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS contain a highly concentrated form of other vitalizing elements which Nature provides for perfect vigor of body and mind. You must have MASTIN'S to get the Original and Genuine VITAMON—the World's Standard—recommended by physicians and now used by millions. SOVIET RUSSIAN EXPORTS INCREASING, TRADE ENVOY SAYS

Wool, Timber, Furs and Other Goods
Given in Exchange for Food, Farm Implements and Drugs.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 17.—Borislaw Koudish, Russian Soviet Trade Commissioner in Constantinople, says that Russia is exporting wool, timber, furs, skins, silks and other goods in exchange for food, agricultural implements, drugs and optical instruments which are in great need in Russia.

"We have made important contracts with British and French firms," he continued. "Twenty-five ships went through the Straits of the Bosphorus in November on their way to ports in the Crimea. Their cargoes consisted mostly of foodstuffs and agricultural implements. Our export trade is far from attaining the normal, not because we lack raw materials, in which Russia is abundant, but because our export operations can only be established on a basis of sound agreements with our neighbors and with the rest of Europe and America."

KRUPP DIRECTOR CONSIDERED FOR AMBASSADOR TO U. S.

Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedfeldt is Being Mentioned as Probable German Envoy to America.
By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 17.—Chancellor Wirth's long search for a man to fill the post of Ambassador to the United States appears to be nearing an end. Although at the Foreign Office yesterday it was stated "no choice has yet been made," the Chancellor's efforts for the last week are known to have been centered on Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedfeldt, a leading member of the Krupp directorate, and one of the foremost German industrialists and economists.
In addition to his activity in connection with the Krupp works, the League of German Industrialists and other economic and financial organizations which are occupying themselves with Germany's post-war problems, Dr. Wiedfeldt in the past year has repeatedly represented the Government in London and Paris in connection with the reparations discussions.
Previously to allying himself with Krupp's, he occupied ministerial positions in the Home Office, where he attained high rank as a civil service official.
While in the Government service, in 1910, he received leave to go to Japan, where he was engaged by the Mikado's Government as a consulting expert in connection with the organization of the Japanese Railway system. He also was appointed special adviser to the South Manchurian Railway Co. of Tokyo.
Dr. Wiedfeldt was in the Far East about three years and passed three months traveling in the United States shortly before the war. He is the author of numerous works dealing with administrative, economic, tariff and transportation questions. He is 50 years of age, and lives at Essen.

CONSTIPATION AN UNNECESSARY EVIL

CEREAL MEAL, the Delicious Breakfast Food, Never Fails to Give Permanent Relief

You have been told time and again that you can rid yourself of constipation by using cathartic pills, patent medicines and scores of other so-called laxative preparations. But you have found that they give only temporary relief and the more you use the more you have to use. This is because they only force an unnatural bowel movement instead of removing the cause of constipation.
Cereal Meal, the Ideal Health Food, is a pure cereal combination containing no drugs, and supplies the system with certain essential digestive, lubricating and stimulating elements, heretofore missing from the average diet, which bring about free and easy bowel movement daily.
Eat a generous dish of Cereal Meal each morning in place of your usual breakfast food and you can discard all pills and other laxatives. Constipation and its attendant ills will vanish—Cereal Meal is guaranteed not to fail. Your dealer will cheerfully refund your money in case it does not do all we claim for it.
Get a package from your dealer today in St. Louis at Wolf, Wilson Drug Co., The Judge & Delph Drug Store, Conrad A. Johnson Bros. Drug Co., Ketter Drug Co., and at all other leading drug stores and grocers.
If you reside out of St. Louis and your dealer has not yet stocked Cereal Meal, ask him to secure it for you through any of the St. Louis wholesale druggists, or write direct to The Cereal Meal Corp., 221 Chambers St., St. Louis, Mo. for the name of nearest Cereal Meal dealer and descriptive literature.

Carpentier May Have to Retire; Health Impaired

Famous French Fighter's Weight Falls to 150 Pounds After Operation.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, March 17.—Georges Carpentier, the world's light-heavyweight champion pugilist, may never fight again. This was the opinion expressed by medical men in close touch with Carpentier as he departed yesterday for La Guerche, his country home, south of Rennes, where he pur- poses to recuperate for a few weeks and then go on training for a bout with Ted "Kid" Lewis, at Olympia, London, in May.

The boy does not realize the shape he is in, said one of the doctors who examined Carpentier prior to his departure. "His great courage and unusual confidence in himself is responsible for his plucky attitude, but he is a very sick man," said the doctor. The actual weight of Carpentier after the recent operation, he under- went was given out as 150 pounds, but close friends of the champion say he was below 150 pounds.

The terrific poultice Carpentier received from Dempsey in the fight in the Jersey City arena last summer caused Mrs. Carpentier, who saw the motion picture of the battle, to request her husband to forsake the squared circle. It is understood that she has renewed this request during his present illness.

MISSOURI A. A. ATHLETES SHINE AT OPENING MEET IN WASHINGTON U. POOL

A program of aquatic events marked the formal opening last night of Washington University's new swimming pool, the gift of Mrs. Norton R. Wilson of Brentwood, place, about 100 invited guests, members of the faculty, alumni and their families were present for the dedication ceremony and the carnival that followed.

The pool was presented for Mrs. Wilson by William G. B. Carson, a member of the faculty and was ac- cepted for the University by Chan- cellor Hall. Then entered Commemorative exercises, the national Field representative of the Life Sav- ing Corps of the American Red Cross and the grand guard of Neptune, at- tended by figures representing health and water safety, portrayed by members of the Red Cross. The swimming and diving events fol- lowed.

The plunge for distance was won by Rachel M. A. A., with a mark of 100 feet. Norbert Raacke, M. A. A., and Herbert Cann, Washington Uni- versity, finished second and third respectively.

Butch Defeats Dalton; Cole Loses to Dronoy

HOUSTON, Tex., March 17.—George Butch of St. Louis last night defeated the former Southern champion, Jack Dalton, in a fast 10-round contest. Butch scored a knockdown and but up a pleasing fight in other ways. Billy "Red" Cole, also of St. Louis, lost to Tim Dronoy in the fifth round, when Cole conceded the bout. Cole apparently was doing very well up to the middle of the fifth, when he wrenched his back and had to retire.

Lewis Throws Petroff.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 17.—By (Strenger) Lewis, demonstrated that he could defend his title as heavyweight champion wrestler without using the dreaded headlock in his victory here last night over Joe Petroff, Bulgarian heavyweight, whom he agreed to grapple with this and later. By using the double cross bar, the champion pinned his opponent for the first fall in one hour, 22 minutes. The second fall was secured with the hammer-fall in 22 minutes.

Semifinals at Handball.

The semifinal matches in the mu- nicipal championship handball tour- nament will be played at Macomber Hall, tomorrow and Sunday. Tomor- row Hippert and McBride oppose Reed and Rich, while Sunday morning Cook and Foss oppose San- dere and Kamman.

WEBSTER FAVORED TO BEAT KIRKWOOD HIGH IN COUNTY TITLE FINAL

Webster Groves High School's basketball team is favored to win tonight when it battles Kirkwood High for the county basketball champion- ship on the Clayton floor. The teams have been in a deadlock since early in the season and tonight's contest will end the long-existing tie.
Both squads have been crippled for some time, and the contest, which will be played at 8 o'clock, is going to be a close one.
Webster easily won from the Red and White five by a 24-15 score dur- ing the Washington U. tournament. Kirkwood was forced to play without the services of Forward Gould, how- ever, and the ability of the team cannot be judged by the affair.
Webster has yet to play off a post- ponement game with Maplewood. Maplewood has been off form all season, however, and has little chance of defeating Coach Roberts' charges. The regular game will follow the scrap between the girls' teams of the two schools. Webster is at present tied with Clayton and unless the girls are beaten by Kirkwood the knot will have to be broken later in the season.

Jonnard With Regulars.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 17.—Members of the world champion Giants will be divided into two groups tonight, the second team leav- ing for a three week's barnstorm tour northward. Jess and Virgil Barnes, Art Neff, Claude Jonnard and Fred Toney are the only regular pitchers Manager Medraw will retain for his first team.

JACK SAYS:

FORESIGHT—THE REAL GIFT

A representative of one of the biggest woolen houses called upon me a few weeks ago and told me about a very prominent woolen house in the East being in difficul- ties, and what wonderful values there were in store for a party with the cash. So to convince my- self I grabbed a "rattler," east- bound, and when I saw the wool- en I was astonished. They were every- thing the representative said they were, and more, AND NOW I HAVE THEM HERE.

Woolens that were made for ex- clusive tailors who sell for no less than $75.00. I bought the woolens at such a price that it enables me to sell them with an extra pair of trousers, made to your individual measure, for $35.00 and up.

Made under my personal super- vision, in my own shop directly above my store, by my expert de- signer and tailors.

I want to warn you now that the men are going to crowd my store tomorrow. I know it because I am offering the greatest tailoring val- ues you ever saw; values in fab- rics which make it foolish to buy cheaply tailored or ready-made suits.

You know, men, knowledge is the greatest thing in the world, and the only way to know it is to find out. I want you to come in and stroll into my store and see the fabrics, and if they are not abso- lutely up to your expectations you can stroll right out again.

Bring your mother, wife or sweet- heart. I do not know of any better judgment than that of the ladies, and I will take their last word and stand pat.

Hurry in Saturday and take ad- vantage of this great offer and let me start on your Easter order.

In the RACING WORLD

Judge Joseph A. Murphy of St. Louis recently sent back to friends here an account of his experiences at the Mexican capital where another effort was made to revive racing. Judge Murphy was optimistic over the future for the sport, but he had to contend with great disadvantages at the meeting at Tia Juana, far out to the west, can testify.

It will be recalled that the Tia Juana meeting was suspended for a time last year because the Mexican officials demanded that a $10 pass- port fee be paid by all patrons of the course. As the track subsists practi- cally on American support, and as the $10 fee would have had to have been renewed daily, the suggestion was preposterous. James Coffroth, manager of the course, succeeded in reducing the fee to a reasonable fig- ure and the meet, this season, is go- ing in full blast.

This simply indicates what trouble Judge Murphy must have had with the Mexican officials, new to their jobs, who are running affairs under President Obregon. War conditions must necessarily prevail in the re- public to the south and everything that seems taxable is going to be taxed.

The fact that Judge Murphy was able to hold his pioneer meeting and to bring it to a successful close speaks well of the men behind the venture.

It will be recalled that Col. Bob Pate, well known to the older gen- eration of St. Louis sportsmen in this city, tried to introduce the racing game in Mexico City in the middle '90's. He reverted to the old practice of starting the horses with the tap of the drum, as he found the Mexican riders utterly unable to comprehend the flag system—and starting gates were unknown then.

Col. Pate had Post Maid and a few other graduates of the old South- Side electric track to aid him in his campaign in showing Mexicans what a race track could really produce in the way of speed. But he finally had to quit the venture on account of the superior charms, to Mexican eyes, of the bullfight and the cock- pit.

Judge Murphy seems to have put the sport on a stable basis in the Mexican capital, however, and it is anxious for another season of racing.

The old race horse, Back Bay, who is now figuring at Mobile, and who has been appearing intermittently at New Orleans for the last winter, is said to be the real veteran of race horses in training. Back Bay is 12 years old and, at that, is to be con- sidered only as a gay young de- ceiver compared to the veteran horse Budweiser that raced over the St. Louis tracks in 1902 and there- abouts. Budweiser won a race or two at New Orleans in 1917 and was promptly protested as a "ringer" be- cause none of the other owners in the races believed that a 13-year-old racehorse could beat the fields op- posed to him. Budweiser was iden- tified, however, and the races stood.

Budweiser's case recalls the fact that many of the old St. Louis tracks, that appeared in this city in the period between 1901 and 1905, still have their names appearing on racing programs as sires and ma- jors of the present day turf. Bar- ney Schreiber's horse, Deutschland, was purchased by a Nevada turfman and has a long string of successors racing at Tia Juana, Deutschland, it will be recalled, was a first class 3-year-old at the old St. Louis Fair Grounds. After he ran in the Derby of his year, Barney Schreiber used to produce, with much forcible language, a photograph taken at the turn into the stretch, showing an- other boy in the race holding on to the end of Deutschland's saddle, to retard the Schreiber candidate. Those unacquainted with the German lan- guage have often expressed the op- inion that they never understand its vituperative possibilities until they heard Barney talk of this episode.

Reports from F. R. Bradley's farm that a full sister to Black Servant has been foaled there, the youngster being a brown filly by Black Toney out of Padula. Black Servant was expected by his owner to win the Kentucky Derby last season, but the colt ran second to his stablemate, Behave Yourself, giving first and second money to the Kentucky turf- man.

There is much talk about the rul- ing off of a certain jockey at New Orleans, when the stewards of the meeting also put the ban on one of the best known plumpers at the meet- ing. The episode in question was so widely discussed throughout the "racing press" that it may prove a handicap to the future of the game at the Crescent City. The stewards at the Fair Grounds meeting did not act until the season was over and it was then said that certain elements had offered $400 to a well-known jockey to stop a certain horse in one of the races of Jan. 14. Several id- eals well-known in the East, were mentioned in the investigation but no action was taken in their par- ticular cases.

A. B. Dade, who started his career at the old Sportman's Park track in this city and who later served at the Delmar and Fair Grounds tracks, has again been appointed starter for the Kentucky tracks, where he has long served.

Quebec tracks have announced their racing dates for the coming season, and the Maisonneuve course at Mon- treal will open the year on May 12 to May 19. Mount Royal will follow from May 20 to May 27 and a full week will then come to June 17, when Dorval Park has a meeting. This will run seven days and Delorimier Park, King Edward Park, Kempton Park and Quebec City will follow in order until July 27, when the dates for the province expire.

One of the half-mile Canadian tracks that found it difficult to at- tract horses last season hit upon the scheme of adding a fourth money to the purse. This insured at least four starters in every race and a good meeting was held with a small num- ber of horses. The Manchester track in England went this scheme one better by offering a bonus for every starter. Scotch courses, that have found it difficult to get horses for their short meetings, are now said to be offering a graded bonus of from $5 to $40 for each actual start- er.

News of the Business World

By Wire to the Post-Dispatch

DETROIT.—The business of the leading automobile manufacturers is so brisk that bankers are warning their customers against over-enthusiasm. The upturn came with unexpected swiftness. The volume of orders now exceeds that ordinarily expected at the height of the spring manufacturing season. If present business is maintained, many automobile companies will have one of the largest years in their history. The president of one important company said today it would take six months' normal production just to replace cars worn out in jitney service in many large cities. Detroit banks have $411,000,000 on deposit, compared with $405,000,000 on the first of the year. For the first time in months, banks are advertising real estate loans. Lines of credit are smaller than heretofore, but are more numerous and the money supply is shaping itself to take good care of the demand for money both for industry and agriculture. Country banks this week have bought normal amounts of short-time paper and a few have bought long-time bonds. Michigan this year will build more houses than at any time in the last decade. There was an increase of 2,000 men in employment here this week.

BASIC CONDITIONS SOUNDER. ATLANTA, Ga.—Basic economic conditions throughout this region are sounder today than at any time since deflation set in. Both wholesale and retail merchants report increased demand and better collections. Bankers see a steady although slow return to normal conditions. Conservative observers, however, are warning the over-enthusiasm against a belief that a boom is impending and emphasizing that hard work and thrift are necessary to keep conditions improving. Merchants are realizing that the day of immense profits has passed and that it has been succeeded by one of fair profits through quick turnover.

Spring weather has given impetus to Easter shopping and merchants handling women's wear are enjoying a brisk trade, particularly the milliners. The demand for men's wear is not so heavy, although haberdashery export business better than a year ago.

The threatened coal strike is not being taken seriously and while dealers have large stocks, consumers are buying beyond present needs. Large building operations here have not caused increases in the price of lumber.

BUSINESS TOPICS. ST. PAUL, Minn.—Northwestern railroads are preparing to handle the greatest settler movement since 1910. In the influx of thousands of farmers from the high-priced lands of Eastern, Southern and Central States to Northern Minnesota, the future of the Dakotas and Montana is declared to be assured. Freight rates on immigrant motorbuses have been cut 40 per cent.

PHILADELPHIA.—The extensive building program recently announced here includes a few extensions of industrial plants. This is due to the fact that the plants were over-expanded during the war. Manufacturers are waiting for demand to approach production capacity before adding to their factories.

DETROIT, Mich.—Freight and passenger business on the Western Michigan Central and Pere Marquette, Canadian lines, from Detroit to Buffalo, is at the highest of any time within two years and improving every day. Extra crews are being taken on. Express business on the Michigan Central is so heavy that express specials are being run in two and three sections.

LEATHER. BOSTON.—Some of the American Hide and Leather Co.'s plants are running full time and some are on half time. The average of operations for all is about 70 per cent of capacity.

HIDES. CHICAGO.—After a big drop in hide prices, the trend of prices is again upward. During the flurry about a half million hides are said to have changed hands at prices 20 per cent below the figures prevailing two weeks ago.

MACHINERY. CLEVELAND, O.—The Cleveland Tractor Co. reports an increase in orders from both domestic and foreign sources. These followed price reductions. Conditions, according to company officials, now have a tendency toward normal.

CHEMICALS. DETROIT, Mich.—The Michigan Alkali Co. is receiving record-breaking orders for its product. Seventeen carloads were shipped yesterday. Officials say this demand reflects a heavy export movement of Pine. The lumber is dipped in the alkali solution for ocean shipment instead of kiln-drying. Sales of other alkali products of the company are continuing at the capacity volume of the plant.

STEEL. CHICAGO.—Independent steel companies in this district are expected to follow recent advances with another jump in price, but the United States Steel Corporation is maintaining present figures. Railroads continue to be heavy purchasers of track material. Three roads have out aggregated inquiries for 20,000 cars.

CLEVELAND, O.—Steel steel prices are holding firm here except for export. Export prices range from $5 to $10 a ton under the domestic sale. Tinplate for export has been sold as low as $4 a base box.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Some of the smaller steel plants in this district still are operating at as low as 20 per cent of capacity, although the larger companies have pushed production above 80 per cent.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Steel mills are stocking coal in large amounts in the vicinity of their plants. By-products coke plants are accumulating especially large stocks.

BUTTER. KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Country butter has fallen as low as 10 cents a pound in some parts of Missouri. The average for the State is 15 cents.

WOOL. LANSING, Mich.—The Michigan Farm Bureau has announced that a 1922 wool pool will be conducted for the benefit of the bureau membership. Shipments will be received here as in previous years. It is estimated that a 40 per cent advance in prices can be realized.

EGGS. CHICAGO.—Egg prices are soft, but remain around 21 cents a dozen.

MEATS. NEW ORLEANS.—Packing house products show a decided increase in volume of sales over those of last year in this city, but for Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi, which are supplied from here, the sales are 2 per cent under those of a year ago.

FLOUR. KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Four mills of the Southwest report that their export business is increasing and is higher than that for last year, which was a record breaker.

WOULD-BE KNIGHT ERRANT HAS MISFORTUNE IN AIDING WOMAN

Girl's Assailant Beats Rescuer, and Passing Autoist Hits Him in Head With Wrench.

AUBURN, Neb.—Lum Duckworth has sworn-off being the rescuer of beauty in distress. The other night the screams of a woman drew him to a spot on the highway where a man under the influence of liquor was be-laboring a well-dressed young woman. When Duckworth came into sight she sought refuge of him. Her companion then attacked Duckworth, and proved too much for the latter, who leaped on the running board of an automobile that was slowing up to see what was wrong. The auto driver, mistaking him for a holdup man, struck him over the head with a wrench, and then she fled. When the autoist returned with the Sheriff to whom he had reported the supposed holdup the man who had struck the woman was arrested.

LANDLADY HOLDS CHILDREN IN LIEU OF FATHER'S BOARD BILL

Finally Persuaded to Turn Over Young Ones on Promise to Pay by Installments.

DETROIT, Mich.—Because Albert Moseyka would not pay a board bill of $170, Mrs. Rosalind Rusk refused to give him back his four children until the bill was settled. Moseyka, who had been out of work for several months, appealed to Robert M. Toms, Prosecuting At-torney for Wayne County, asking that he help him get his children. It took more than an hour for a special deputy to convince Mrs. Rusk that the youngsters, who ranged in age from 3 to 8 years, could not be held in lieu of a debt. She released them when the deputy assured her Moseyka would pay the bill in weekly installments, now that he has a job.

Kentucky Agriculture Club

LEBANON, Ky.—With more than 150 farm boys and girls already en-rolled and new members coming in each day, junior agricultural club work is promised one of its most successful years in Marion County, according to H. J. Childress, County Agent. The principal lines of ac-tivity which the youngsters will fol-low will be those dealing with beef cattle, hogs and poultry. Members of the County Poultry Association will furnish Poultry Club members with pure-bred hatching eggs which will be paid for by the return of one pullet for each setting of eggs this fall.

79-Year-Old Woman Fine Speller.

GRANVILLE, Pa.—Mrs. S. M. Deal, 79 years old, proved the young-est social and educational element a generation of idlers here the other night when she won the laurels at an old-time spelling bee against all com-ers. Mrs. Deal, the winner of many a similar contest in her earlier days, decided to take chances with the younger generation, and spelled down her opponents one after another. After winning she looked about her with the fire of youth in her eyes for more spellers to defeat.

A LOVELESS MARRIAGE

The Absorbing Story of a Woman's Heart

By RUBY M. AYRES.
(Copyright, 1922.)

SECOND INSTALLMENT.

He wrinkled up his nose. He was a rather good-looking boy with blue eyes and brown hair that made desperate efforts to wave, but which was kept so close cropped that it had very little chance.

"What's your name?" he asked, condescendingly.

"Marjorie Eliza Dairymple."

He looked at me interestedly.

"Great Scott!" he said. "Then you must be the kid my father comes to see."

I only stared.

"I'm Tempest," he explained a little impatiently. "Richard Tempest, my father's father's solicitor."

And that was how I first met the boy who was years afterward to play such an important part in my life.

The rest of the month during which Miss Vivash was in Italy flew by. I can safely say I was never dull again.

Every moment of each day that I could manage to get away I spent with Richard Tempest.

I had never had a brother of my own. I had never had a boy friend, and I thought him the most wonderful creature I had yet come across.

Everything he said and did was marvelous in my eyes. I followed him round like a grateful dog. I waited on him hand and foot when ever opportunity arose, and I can truthfully say that I had never been so happy in my life.

He was several years my senior—I was 11 then and he, I suppose, 18—and naturally he treated me with that half-tolerant, half-good-natured patronage which a big boy always shows to a little girl.

He called me "Kid," and let me see very plainly that he considered a girl a very poor sort of thing.

I can feel the silly tears spring to my eyes even now as I think of those summer days and the long-legged boy and the little girl who followed him about the fields and lanes so adoringly.

But the childish idyll came to an end, and one morning he told me that he had had a letter from home saying that the doctor had pronounced the "kiddie" free from infection.

"So I'm off tonight," he added. "And I'm jolly glad, too, to get out of this dull hole."

And then I did the stupid thing I could possibly have done—I burst into tears.

He had never seen me shed a tear before, and he stared at me with an odd mixture of disgust and dismay on his brown face.

"What the dickens is the matter?" he asked.

I explained incoherently between sobs.

"I don't want you to go—I shan't have anyone to play with. Oh, I don't want you to go."

In just such words I had appealed to my father two years before not to send me to boarding school, and had received scant sympathy for my pained history repeated itself once more.

Young Tempest turned his back on me contemptuously.

"Silly kid!" he said. "Girls are stupid!"

He walked off across the field and left me sitting in the long grass by the stream, sobbing disconsolately.

Since I have had children of my own I often think of the pathetic figure I must have been, sitting there in the sunshine, lonely and unwanted, whilst my only friend turned his back and walked disgustedly away.

My mother-heart has often longed to run back across the years that now divide me from my childhood.

and snatch up that poor little girl who was me, and kiss her and make much of her, as my own mother would have done had she been there.

But every now and then between sobs I peered round in the "forlorn hope" that Richard would come back. He did not, and I had to go home to my dinner without seeing him again.

Jane questioned me sharply when she saw my tear-redened eyes.

"What's the matter, Miss Marjorie?" she asked. "Have you hurt yourself?"

I muttered something about having bumped my head and she said, in a relieved voice:

"Is that all? Well, you are a cry-baby." Which was all the sympathy I got from her!

AFTER dinner I haunted the lanes and fields till it was dusk, but Richard did not come. I suppose he had forgotten all about me in the excitement of going home.

I cried myself to sleep that night, and in the morning I got up almost as soon as it was light and dressed myself and stole out to the fields and stream, because I felt sure, somehow, that he would not be so unkind as to go without saying good-by.

For three weeks we had been such pals. I did not understand then that he had only condescended to talk to me because he could find no one better.

But of course I saw nothing of him; and later on the morning I screwed up my courage and went to his schoolhouse, which he had once pointed out to me through the trees.

A gardener was sweeping the path which led to the front door, and I went up to him and asked timidly if he knew where Richard Tempest was.

He stopped sweeping and pushed his cap to the back of his head as he looked down at me, smiling good-naturedly.

"Why, he went home last night, missie. I took his boxes to the station myself in a barrow."

"Tears filled my eyes, though I tried hard to keep them back.

"He didn't say good-by to me," I whispered chokingly.

Sudden illumination crossed his face.

"Are you the young lady from Miss Vivash's school up at The Oaks?" he asked.

"Yes," I faltered.

He put down his broom.

"You come along o' me, then," he said; he held his rough hand to me and led me down the garden to a potting shed. He took something off a shelf.

"I clean forget for the moment," he told me apologetically. "But Master Tempest he gave me this for you. 'Give it 'er yourself, Jenks,' he said. 'And tell 'er I'm not cross.'"

He pressed a letter and a small bag into my hands; the bag he held full of chocolate drops that looked as if they had long been carried in a warm pocket; and the letter—which I have still—was hurriedly written in a big, boyish scrawl.

"I'm sorry I didn't say good-by to you—you're better than most girls."

And that was the last I heard of him for many years.

One day I sprang up my courage and asked "Mr. Father how Richard was; but he looked at me so hard through his pebble glasses that I never dared repeat the question.

The rest of my life at The Oaks was uneventful. I never did anything wonderful, like passing an examination, or taking a scholarship. I made very few friends.

"You'll never get on in the world, Marjorie," Miss Vivash used to say to me sharply. "You dream too much. One day you'll be looking at the clouds and bump your head against the ceiling."

I was nearly 15 when one afternoon she came into the classroom where we were trying to interest ourselves in the fall of the Roman Empire and asked for me.

She looked flushed and excited, as she always did when any of the girls' parents came. When I followed her out of the room she whispered to me to run upstairs and put on my best frock, as there was someone to see me in the drawing room.

I supposed it was Mr. Tempest; nobody else ever came to see me.

I brushed my hair, got an ink-stain off my finger with pumice stone and went down to the drawing room.

I heard voices as I turned the handle, when I opened the door. I saw a man standing back to the mantel shelf. He was an elderly man, with iron-gray hair, and a stranger to me; but something in his eyes as they met mine sent a little shiver of remembrance through my heart.

"Come in, Marjorie," said Miss Vivash, in the sugary tones she kept for girls when their parents were present. "Don't you know who this gentleman is?"

I looked at her, and again at the man; and once more that little shivering remembrance crept through me.

"No," I said, in a whisper, but in my heart I knew.

It was my father!

My father took me away from The Oaks School the next day.

I had not been particularly happy there, and I was not particularly sad when I was taken away. I saw my boxes being bumped down the uncarpeted stairs.

Miss Vivash was much gratified by the sight of my grief, I suppose she thought it was a good advertisement for her that I was so loath to leave; I was too young to explain that I was not grief but fear that caused my tears—fear of the unknown and of leaving the only place I had ever known.

I had feared and dreaded my father five years ago. I did so more now, his very appearance was strange—he seemed to have lost in height and gained in breadth and ungainliness—his face was red and puffy, and his eyes had lost their hawklike sharpness, and often looked dim and glassy.

He showed me as little sympathy when he took me away from The Oaks as he had shown that day five years ago when he led me into the house when I had run after the fly that drove Nance to the station.

We had a hired fly ourselves this time; my boxes were heaped up beside the coachman, and my father and I sat alone in one another in the stuffy interior.

I hung out of the window with the tears pouring down my face, and waved to the group of girls and boys who were standing at the door of the school for the last time. I could see them. Miss Vivash's sharp face looked kinder than I ever remembered it; I think she was amazed that I should be so grieved to leave her.

I never saw her again, although years after, when I had a daughter of my own—she sent me a flowery and exaggerated prospectus of her school, with a note saying that I had forgotten my own happy days with her.

I put the note in the fire with a shudder; somehow I could only remember those holidays and the bare, map-bung walls of the schoolroom.

When we reached the station my father told me irritably to stop crying and try to be cheerful.

"Most girls cry when they are taken to school," he said impatiently. "You cry because you are that you might be pleased to see your father after a separation of five years."

It was on the tip of my tongue to ask whose fault it was that we had been separated, but I did not dare! I dried my eyes obediently, and stuffed my handkerchief away.

At the station he swore and grumbled because I had so many boxes; he informed me that he had once been to America for six months with no luggage beyond a pocket-handkerchief; he asked me what the devil I had got in them all.

I had never heard anyone swear before—my father had never used bad language in the old days, and I was frightened and disgusted.

"Where you think you're going to put them all goodness only knows," he said. "Four bedrooms' small enough, and I won't have them anywhere else. London houses aren't built for lumber!"

I looked at him in amazement.

"Look—aren't we going home?" I hazarded vaguely.

"Home! home!" he echoed testily. "What do you mean by home?"

Nance House has been let for years, if that's what you mean. Where do you suppose I've got the money from to keep you at school all this time—how do you suppose I've managed to exist myself?"

I was dumb with amazement.

I had so often told the girls at Miss Vivash's school that my lovely old home; I had never forgotten it—the high, oak-raftered rooms, the winding paths in the garden; the old box hedges and the masses of roses.

It seemed incredible that it was let—and to a stranger.

I longed to ask who lived there now, and if we should never go back any more—but I was too afraid."

Making Her Look Her Best

By DORIS DOSCHER.

THE Care of the Oily Scalp.

HE luster that comes from the natural oil in the hair, giving it a much admired sheen, is very attractive. But when this oil is excessive and gives the hair a greasy look it takes away all the natural fluffiness and luster and gives a flat, greasy appearance to the head. This condition of the hair is more noticeable during the winter months, so I want to suggest to you a few little attentions to both scalp and hair which will banish forever the worry over too oily hair.

The wearing of heavy hats and the consequent indoors in overheated buildings causes the scalp to perspire. This perspiration, carrying off as it does the waste matter of the scalp, should be removed, else it settles back again in the pores, clogging the pores of the scalp and doing great injury to the growth of the hair. It can best be removed by the nightly brushing, by proper shampooing and occasionally a dry shampoo.

The lack of opportunity to give the proper airing to the hair is also a cause of this excessive oiliness, but perhaps more than anything else it is due to the pores not having the proper contraction, and this can only be cured by good circulation and tonics. When I say "tonics" I do not mean only the application of some preparation of drugs. One of the greatest tonics we have is sunlight, and the stimulating effect of hot and cold water also acts as a wonderful tonic. Massage also gives excellent results.

As soon as we think of a too oily scalp the question arises as to how often it should be shampooed. Of course, if your hair is too oily you will have to wash it oftener than would a person whose hair has a dry coating, but once every other week is usually sufficient if you alternate with a dry shampoo and are faithful in daily brushing and airing the hair.

But do not misunderstand me. Shampooing alone will never cure you of this condition. It simply removes the excessive oil at the time. The trouble lies in the condition of the scalp, and this you must remedy by systematic measures to your general health, as we know that falling hair and excessive oiliness can be traced to the poor condition of the general health. Then, when you do shampoo the hair, try applying hot and then cold water.

This will quicken the contracting action of the pores and when they are normal the excessive oil will not be noticeable in the scalp. If the last rinsing water is as cold as you can bear you will be less likely to take cold and it should leave the scalp with a feeling of glowing vitality.

A too oily scalp is usually associated with falling hair, so by curing this condition you are bound to increase the growth of your hair. It is well worth the little time it takes for the daily brushing and airing when you consider how important it is for the growth of your hair.

Besides the nightly massage, the proper shampooing and the brushing and airing of the hair, you will find the following an excellent stimulating tonic:

Quinine sulphate 20 gr.
Tincture cathartides 2 dr.
Extract laborandi 1 oz.
Deodorized alcohol 2 dr.
Glycerin 1 oz.
Bay rum 6 oz.

Part the hair carefully and apply this tonic with a toothbrush to the scalp so that every portion of it is covered.

Remember that you cannot have a luxuriant growth of hair that is neither too oily nor too dry unless you take systematic exercises to tone up the entire body and give you perfect digestion. The slightest tendency to nerves or overwork is bound to have a disastrous effect on the hair. Sunshine, air and proper care, these are nature's gifts.

Farmer Brown's Boy Has Fun With Trader

By Thornton W. Burgess.

To live let live. That only way Trade grows and prosper day by day.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

FARMER BROWN'S BOY was delighted at having made the acquaintance of Trader the Wood Rat. He was careful not to disturb Trader's home which he had found under the floor of the little sugar house. Trader was not at home and was nowhere to be seen. Of course, when he heard Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's Boy tearing up the floor he ran away and hid.

Having taken out the things Trader had stolen, the floor was carefully put back and Farmer Brown and his boy went to work collecting sap and making syrup and sugar. All day long they were too busy to give further thought to Trader.

But that night when Farmer Brown's Boy came home, he found Trader's home under the floor of the little sugar house. He was careful not to disturb Trader's home which he had found under the floor of the little sugar house. Trader was not at home and was nowhere to be seen.

AMBITIOUS DAYS.

Chapter 21.

For the first time in her life Peggy actually felt the glow of ambition in her blood. If she could succeed in business and have her salary raised $10 a week with scarcely any effort upon her part, what could she do if she really studied and tried to advance herself?

What did the boss see in her that made him place her in charge of the other nine typists? Did she possess business efficiency and the power to handle orders? Her employer's confidence in her put new energy in her veins. She wanted to go to a business school evenings to get as much training as she could.

That evening when she announced the good news to her family her parents exchanged anxious glances as she elaborated upon her plans.

"I wouldn't be too ambitious, Peggy dear," said her mother. "If you work nights and take a business course you will ruin your health. Are you forgetting Harrison Towley and rest of your deams? After all marriage is a girl's best opportunity and a girl of your type doesn't have to bother her head about a career."

"Right," seconded Peggy's father. "I'd much rather see you wearing a wedding ring, Peg, than see you around with her corns and glasses and that terribly 'Aren't I successful' manner."

But because her parents were inclined to think marriage was the only road for her, Peggy gritted her teeth and became all the more ambitious to advance in her business world. Besides, what her employer had said about Billy Eracton had made a deep impression upon her.

Peggy realized that her employer's interest in Billy and in her was a most unusual thing. As a rule the St. Louis employer did not tell young employees to wait two years before they married, to work hard and he would advance them. This was an exceptional opportunity and she was going to make the most of it.

Directly after dinner Peggy wrote a long letter to Billy and told him of her new advancement and what her employer had said about them.

"I never was so happy or so anxious to show him that I can make good," she concluded her letter. "I am going right in for a business course at night now and see what I can do."

Train the Boy for a Job

By W. A. McKeever Widely Known Lecturer and Author and a National Authority on Juvenile Problems.

NOW is the time for parents to impress their big, indifferent, teen-age sons with the fact that the future is dark for the youth who refuses to continue in school. Everywhere the course of training in the schools has been broadened and enriched, and the opportunities for an education have become more and more generous. In proportion the place of the unskilled and common laborer has been narrowed. Specialize or you are out of the game, is practically the meaning of this situation to your youthful son. Make the matter clear to him before it is too late. Fortunately, opportunities for continued education are spreading out so as to reach the restless youth at every possible angle. Day school, night school, trade school and business school, Y. M. C. A. school and apprentice school—all these are offered until the youth who shuns them all is practically forced to give up his self-respect. Somewhere within the environs of the city there must be an opportunity for training which will fit your boy. There is not any special magic in the traditional high school subjects. It is more the influence of the school environment—the relations with high-minded teachers and ambitious youths—which tend to hold your boy in the way of higher achievement. With one subject which fires him in a life ambition, and one teacher who is willing to stay by him, your boy can march in triumph to a splendid citizenship. Where can the foregoing combination of inspiring forces be found? Do not lead your boy about the city in search of a school to fit him, for that is too direct an advertisement of his failure, and is humility. First, secure your list of all available institutions, and when a possible opening is found, look for the man at the selected school who is best suited to invite your son to enter. Probably, without being quite aware as to what is the matter with him, your boy is looking for a trusted friend who will condone his shortcomings for the time being, and who will act as a patient, confidential adviser of the youth. One such good man probably will be able to turn him toward a life of usefulness. Again, I urge, find this chance for your boy, if it requires a month of searching to discover him.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME BY SOPHIE IRENE LOEB TIN-CAN MEALS

OF ALL the elements that breed discontent and create unhappy homes, one of the surest is where the tin can meal is a common, every-day proposition. There are good-natured men who will put up with such storage foods and say nothing because of saving the wife labor and worry. If the truth were known, however, this sort of living soon wears out the patience. The break that usually comes from another matter may be traced directly to this lack of real home cooking and proper, nourishing meals. Many a man would hesitate to say that the cause of his marital troubles was due to the business of eating. Yet in thousands of cases this is the fact. Not far wrong were the persons who said "feed the brute" and "you can always reach a man through his stomach." Between you and me there is more truth than josh in the statement. The way it usually begins is that the careless wife preys on an indulgent husband. John won't mind, she thinks if a hurried meal is prepared. Hubby, anxious to "save trouble, agrees, and before he knows it, the can opener is the most important utensil in his household. The main business in his wife's kitchen is to get a meal as quickly as possible and to get it over, and then often he has serious difficulty in getting over it. I know a good-natured husband who actually became poor because of his wife's habit of hasty meals. Coming home from work every day, he would picture to himself the meal that was in store for him with canned foods and delicatessen stuff. He grew very tired of these things, but, being very fond of his wife, he hesitated to tell her about how he abhorred this sort of living. So he adopted a scheme by which they went out for their meals as much as possible. He did it in a very pleasant way, assuring her that he wanted to save her the trouble of cooking, and why not go to different places for their meals, and thereby get some fun out of it as well. This just suited her—the indifferent and lazy wife. But the man, being of modest means, soon realized that he was living right up to his income, with almost nothing to spare at the end of the week. Came the day when he became sick, and he had little saved up to tide him over during this period. This couple found themselves in bad shape. Fortunately, they had no children, but borrowing money from friends became very difficult. Not only this, but the wife kept up the tin-can meal until one day there came "the straw that broke the camel's back." He could stand it no longer, and begged for toast and poached eggs and other simple foods that took a little time and attention to prepare. He begged only once, however, and then spoke his mind quite freely, which the lady naturally resented. But the man now did not spare her, and told her the truth about their poverty and that she was the cause of it. He frankly informed her that had she taken some interest and used a little "elbow grease" and a bit of brain he might have had home-made meals, obviated his sickness and saved him from bankruptcy. In this particular instance the woman woke up.

For the mother of a very large family there is some excuse for canned foods. Yet in how many hundreds of homes—small homes—this reckless, careless method of making meals causes untold woe. Many an irritable family can trace its trouble to the hurry-up meal. Many a quarrel has been caused from bad stomachs and dyspeptic moods. Yes, I would say that constant tin-can meals constitute one of the prime causes of misery in homes. It is, indeed, truth the well-known verse: "You can live without poetry, music or books. But civilized man cannot live without food." Canned food is all right in its time and place, but its place is not every day for every meal. Among the centenarians in the United States there are 2766 women and only 1561 men. The excess among the women shows the evidence of the longevity of the women over the men.

Six Rules for Making GOOD COFFEE

1. Keep your coffee air tight

It loses its strength and aroma when exposed to air. Keep it in an air-tight container.

2. Measure carefully

Experiment until you find just the proportions of Coffee and water that suit your taste. Then stick to them! Guessing usually means a poor cup of Coffee.

3. Use grounds only once

Don't leave the Coffee grounds in the pot and re-steep for the next meal. Used Coffee grounds are of no more value in making Coffee than ashes in building a fire.

4. Use boiling water

Boil your water, but don't boil your Coffee; don't let the water and the ground bean boil together after they are mixed.

5. Serve at once

Many a pot of perfect Coffee has been ruined by letting it cool. If you must wait, keep the Coffee piping hot, but never let it boil. Re-cooking injures the flavor.

6. Scour the coffee pot

It is not enough to give the pot a hurried rinse and set it away to dry. Scour it even more carefully than other cooking utensils.

LITTLE ECONOMIES

Never put hot foods into the refrigerator if you care anything about saving ice.

The sheet on the ironing board will last much longer if you do not rub the hot iron over it. Have a sheet of newspaper at end of board to test heat of iron, and if you sprinkle a little salt over this paper you will always have a smooth iron.

One practical housekeeper uses glass jars to keep left-over foods in and she fastens a rubber ring to the bottom, using china cement. This prevents the jars from slipping in the refrigerator. Her reason for this is that she has less nicked crockery, the jars take up less space than dishes and they can be covered.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

(One of a series of short funny stories by the celebrated American humorist which appear daily in the Post-Dispatch on this page.)

FROM THE BOOK OF MOSES.

MOSE MORRIS used to live near Frankfort, Ky. He was a small, meek person of color, who cultivated a truck patch for a living, and was generally liked by the white population. He remained a bachelor until he was nearing middle age.

Then, in an unthoughtful hour, he suffered himself to be shackled in the holy bonds of wedlock with a large, truculent, overbearing black woman nearly twice his size. He led his bride away to his little house seven miles from town.

But within two weeks' time he came driving into Frankfort, which is the seat of the county as well as the capital of the State, in a two-mule wagon, which was piled high with household effects. As he crossed the bridge over the Kentucky River a white gentleman hailed him:

"Why, hello, Mose! Where are you going with all that plunder?"

"I'm movin', Mist' Bob," answered Mose.

"Movin' where?"

"Movin' into town—done rented a lit' house down back behind de L. & N. depot."

"Why, I thought you liked the country?" said the white man.

"I used to lak it," said Mose. "I used to lak it powerful. But my wife she don't lak the country. An' yere lately I've tuck notice, Mist' Bob, dat w'en my wife don't lak a thing I jest natchelly hates it."
